FAMILY READINESS GROUP

REAL: Readiness Essentials for Army Leaders

ENGAGING • CONNECTING • EMPOWERING

Introduction

Did you know that Family Readiness Groups (FRGs) have been around since the Revolutionary War days? Families have ALWAYS been an important facet of Military life and yes, FRGs as we know them to be today have changed a lot since General George Washington was around.

Readiness is based on the smallest unit being prepared, that unit is the individual Soldier. If the Soldier's Family is not prepared, the Soldier is not prepared. When the unit is not prepared, the Army is unprepared. While the state of being happy, healthy, and resilient is a personal responsibility, it is greatly improved when the tools and resources are quickly accessible. The Family Readiness Group is a resource with knowledge of programs and services available to assist in preparing Soldiers and Family members for military life.   It is critical that every Soldier and Family Member are well-informed and well-prepared.

Family Readiness is defined as Families who are prepared and equipped with the skills and tools to successfully meet the challenges of the military lifestyle. Family Readiness Group (FRG) volunteers are an integral part of the planning and preparation that goes into making FRGs successful.

You see, FRGs matter and we need you! We need you to talk about how FRGs help one another, talk about the fun experiences, talk about the wonderful support offered, and start recruiting more volunteers. FRGs are a viable part of our Military culture.

This book is your toolkit to gain a good understanding of your roles and responsibilities. This guide will give you many of the resources needed to be successful in your position within the FRG. You will need to add local resources that are available in your community.

This is a collaboration of efforts and best practices from FRG Leaders, Family Readiness Support Assistants, Command Teams and Army Community Service throughout the Army, to include active duty, National Guard, and Reserve. Use it to guide you as a resource throughout your journey with the Army to ensure command teams, volunteers, FRSAs, FRLs and Families have the right tools and resources readily available.

Remember how we stated FRGs have been around since the Revolutionary War?   Well it appears that Martha Washington held receptions for our newly arrived men and women, visiting dignitaries and visiting member of Congress. Even though FRGs have changed a lot since then, it also appears Martha Washington really understood that FRGs mattered.

DoDI 1342.22 Military Family Readiness

Department of Defense Instruction (DoDI) 1342.22, "Military Family Readiness," published July 3, 2012 updates policy, responsibilities, and procedures for delivering family readiness services to service members and their families.

Background

By canceling DoD Directive 1342.17, "Family Policy," DoDI 1342.22 now serves as DoD's primary source of family readiness policy guidance. In recognition of the changing nature of today's all-volunteer military force and in response to lessons learned from a decade of combat operations, the DoDI modernizes the Department's approach to family readiness. The DoDI's establishment of a Family Readiness System (FRS) outlines diverse options for accessing a network of integrated services to help families easily find the support they need for everyday life in the military. This approach underscores the importance of partnerships and collaboration among all those who serve military families. The policy also provides guidance for regular assessment of service member and family needs, annual reporting on service usage, accreditation of services, and program evaluation to ensure family readiness goals are being met. Policy updates will help DoD better meet the needs of all service members and their families, regardless of branch of Service, active or Reserve status, or geographic location.

The Family Readiness System

The FRS is the network of agencies, programs, services, and people, and the collaboration among them, that promotes the readiness and quality of life of service members and their families. The FRS features a variety of access points, such as installation Military and Family Support Centers, the Joint Family Support Assistance Program, and Military OneSource, through which families can connect with the FRS and find services, including

- Child abuse prevention and response services
- Child development programs **
- Domestic violence prevention and response services
- Deployment assistance
- Exceptional family member support
- Emergency family assistance*
- Family readiness in the Reserve Components*

- Information and referral
- Morale, welfare, and recreation services
- Non-medical individual and family counseling
- Personal and family life education
- Personal financial management services*
- Relocation assistance*
- Transition assistance
- Youth programs **

Policy requirements, including updates, for relocation assistance, personal financial management services and family readiness in the Reserve Components, have been integrated into DoDI 1342.22 (canceling DoDI 1338.19, DoDI 1342.27, and DoDI 1342.23, respectively).
While DoDI 1342.22 addresses these services as a part of the FRS, separate policy governs these services.*

Implementation Plan

- The DoD Components are required to issue implementing guidance in accordance with the DoDI.
- Military Communicty & Family Policy (MC&FP) will work closely with the Services to implement new policy requirements and promote clear and consistent messaging about the FRS.
- The full text of DoDI 1342.22 and a Summary of Changes are available online.

(1) Where Defense Agencies, DoD Field Activities, and other DoD Components are tenant organizations on an installation hosted by a DoD entity that provides family support for the tenant organizations, a separate EFA plan is not required to be developed by such tenant organizations. If the tenant organizations have unique circumstances that are not addressed in the host installation EFA plan, the tenant organization shall develop and maintain an appropriate contingency plan that addresses the gaps in the host installation EFA plan.

(2) Where Defense Agencies, DoD Field Activities, and other DoD Components are tenant organizations hosted by non-DoD entities, appropriate contingency plans are required.

d. Is not intended to, and does not, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity by any person, organization, or other entity against the United States, its departments, agencies, officers, employees, or agents, or any other person.

Personally identifiable information shall be protected in accordance with Reference (z).

(3) Family readiness service providers shall conduct regular outreach to command representatives, family readiness unit liaisons, Service members and their families, and civilian service providers to:

(a) Maximize opportunities to work with the command to regularly share official family readiness information (e.g., program and event schedules; family readiness points of contact; location and availability of services) with military families.

(b) Promote awareness of family readiness services and encourage proactive engagement with the FRS by family readiness unit liaisons, Service members, family members, and civilian service providers.

(c) Enhance individuals' ability to easily navigate among the various access points within the FRS.

(d) Ensure access to services by geographically-dispersed and socially-isolated Service members and their families.

(6) The FRS shall deliver services in a manner consistent with military families' needs, as indicated through needs assessments in accordance with paragraph 6.a. of this enclosure.

b. Access Points. Family readiness access points may include, but are not limited to:

(1) MFSCs. MFSCs shall:

(a) Be visually conspicuous and conveniently accessible by active duty Service or Reserve Service members and their families and, in accordance with Service implementing guidance, other populations designated by the Secretaries of the Military Departments.

(a) Review the publication in question.

(b) Prepare a written recommendation to HQDA that provides the basic facts for the determination that distribution of the subject publication would present a clear danger to the loyalty, discipline, or morale of the Soldiers on his or her installation.

(c) Send recommendation, together with a copy of the subject publication, to HQDA (SAPA) Washington, DC 20310. Appropriate information copies should also be provided to intermediate headquarters.

(4) Reports required in paragraph (2) and (3), are "exempt reports" under AR 335–15.

(5) The delay in distribution will remain in force until a determination to approve or disapprove the request is made by HQDA.

e. Distribution of commercial publications. On-post distribution of commercial publications will be restricted as defined in AR 360–1. All commercial publications distributed free of charge will not carry any advertisement that implies discrimination with regard to the race, religion, color, gender, or national origin of the purchaser, user or patron. The publication will place its readers and advertisers on notice of this requirement by including in a prominent location the following: "Everything advertised in this publication must be made available for purchase, use, or patronage without regard to the race, religion, color, gender, or national origin of the purchaser, user, or patron."

f. Distribution of command information newspapers. The distribution of command information newspapers (either Army-funded or civilian enterprise) will be governed by AR 360–1. Distribution through official channels will be authorized.

5–11. Federal Parent Locator Service

Section 113, Title 10, United States Code (10 USC 113) requires that current addresses of Soldiers be available to the Federal Parent Locator Service. The DEERS serves as DOD's centralized personal locator service. Commanders will

5–9. Standards for acceptance of voluntary service

a. Accepting official. The accepting official is a military member or Government employee (APF and NAF) who is the head of the organization (or their designee) where the volunteer provides service.

b. Organization responsibilities. The organization where the volunteer serves is responsible for ensuring—

(1) All volunteer documentation is complete.

(2) Personnel records are maintained.

(3) Awards and recognition are planned and executed.

(4) Costs of reimbursable expenses and organization awards are budgeted.

(5) A representative serves on the Volunteer Council.

(6) The Volunteer Management Information System on the Army OneSource Web site is utilized to record volunteer positions, awards, training, hours, and so on.

c. Circumvention of the civil service system. Volunteers may assist the workforce by performing an apportionment of a required function, but they cannot be used to substitute totally or permanently for unfilled positions, to replace paid employees or in lieu of obtaining contracted services for which funding has been provided.

d. Nondiscrimination policy. In accepting voluntary services, organizations will not discriminate based on race, creed, religion, age, sex, color, national origin, sexual orientation, marital status, political affiliation, or disability.

e. Injury. Volunteers will not perform duties that render them unusually susceptible to injury or to causing injury to others.

f. Supervision. The degree of supervision of volunteers will be comparable to that provided with respect to paid employees providing similar services. Personnel management rules and procedures applicable to exercising authority, direction, and control over paid employees and military personnel are not applicable to volunteers. Supervisory authority with respect to volunteers will be through designation of authorized duties, training, counseling, and determinations regarding continuation of acceptance of voluntary services. The supervisor may be a paid employee (civil service or NAF employee), a military member, or another volunteer who is so supervised. The supervisor must be directly responsible for the work the volunteer is performing.

g. Undue influence. When accepting voluntary services, commanders will ensure that neither they nor their paid or volunteer staff violate the provisions. By law no official will directly or indirectly impede or otherwise interfere with the right of a spouse of a military member to pursue and hold a job, attend school, or perform voluntary services on or off a military installation. Moreover, no official will use the preferences or requirements to influence or attempt to influence the employment, educational, or volunteer decisions of a spouse.

h. Background checks. Volunteers may be subject to a background check in accordance with DODI 1402.5, AR 608–10, and AR 608–18. Volunteers who work with children and youth must have a background check in accordance with the above regulations. The organization accepting the volunteer may contact the Family Advocacy Program Manager or the AVCC to obtain guidance on procedures for obtaining background checks and points of contact at required agencies.

i. Credentials. When required, volunteers must be licensed, privileged, have the appropriate credentials, or be otherwise qualified under applicable law, regulations, or policy to provide the voluntary services involved.

j. Privacy. DODD 5400.11 provides for the disclosure of privacy-protected records to agency employees who need the records in the performance of their duties. Access to records contained in a Privacy Act system of records may be provided to a volunteer providing a service to an APF activity. Any volunteer with such access must comply with the protection, disclosure, disclosure accounting, and other requirements. Privacy protected information may not be disclosed to a volunteer in a NAFI, as 10 USC 1588 does not authorize such access for NAFI volunteers.

k. Volunteer agreement. All volunteers and accepting officials for APF or NAF activities will sign DD Form 2793 (Volunteer Agreement for Appropriated Fund and Nonappropriated Fund Instrumentalities). A copy of the signed volunteer agreement will be given to the volunteer prior to commencement of voluntary services. The DD Form 2793 will be placed in the volunteer's personnel file and may be uploaded on the Volunteer Management Information System.

l. Parental permission form. Parental or guardian permission is required prior to the commencement of volunteer services from unmarried Family members under the age of 18. DA Form 5671 (Parental Permission) will be signed when accepting voluntary services from unmarried Family members under age 18 before commencement of work.

m. Position description. A written position description will be completed in Volunteer Management Information System for each volunteer and will include the position and title, first-line supervisor, second-line supervisor (if applicable), description of duties, time required, qualifications of the job, training required and provided by the program accepting the voluntary services, and evaluation and feedback by the supervisor.

(1) The supervisor of the volunteer will write the position description, and the accepting official will be the approval authority.

(2) Each position description will make specific mention as to whether or not the regular use of a motor vehicle, private or Government-owned or Governement-leased, is required and, if required, the specific volunteer duties that will be performed while using the vehicle. Incidental uses of a privately owned vehicle (for example, to run an occasional errand) should not be described in the job description.

(3) If the use of a vehicle is not required in the performance of volunteer duties, the position description will state that the use of a vehicle is not authorized.

n. Daily time record. Each volunteer will maintain a record of hours worked in Volunteer Management Information System. Credit hours earned will be entered for the appropriate day and month that the volunteer worked. Monthly totals will be automatically totaled in Volunteer Management Information System. A hard copy of entered data will be printed as DA Form 4713 (Volunteer Daily Time Record) and placed in the volunteer's personnel file.

o. Service record. All organizations having volunteers must ensure volunteer hours worked are documented in Volunteer Management Information System. These organizations must document jobs performed and training and recognition received in Volunteer Management Information System. The program will automatically place this information on DA Form 4162 (Volunteer Service Record) which should be printed and placed in the volunteer's personnel file.

p. Retention of records. Volunteer records will be retained for 3 years following the termination of voluntary service by the organization receiving the service. After that period, a summary of each volunteer's service may be electronically maintained at the activity until no longer needed.

q. Training. Volunteers will receive training needed to perform their duties. This training will include pre-job training to learn technical skills, on-the-job training, and continuing in-service training.

r. Orientation. Volunteers (includes those who transfer from other duty locations) will receive orientation to familiarize them with the organization, their assigned duties, procedures to document voluntary service hours, policies and procedures for obtaining reimbursement of incidental expenses, award policies, grievance procedures, line of supervision, the importance of confidentiality, and other relevant matters.

5–10. Authorized volunteer support Various kinds of support are authorized to assist volunteers in performing their assigned service. These include, but are not limited to—

a. Equipment. This covers Government facilities, to include dedicated office or desk space, equipment, supplies, computers, and telephones as needed to accomplish assigned duties.

b. Authority to install equipment. The commander has the authority to install telephone lines and any necessary telecommunication equipment in the private residences of persons who provide voluntary services and may pay the charges incurred for the use of the equipment for authorized purposes.

c. Use of Government-owned or Government-leased vehicle. A volunteer may be permitted to use Government-owned or Governement-leased administrative vehicles under 10,000 pounds when all the following circumstances exist:

(1) The appropriate commander determines that the use of the vehicle is for official purposes and that failure to provide such support would have an adverse effect on Soldier morale.

(2) The use of the vehicle can be provided without detriment to the accomplishment of the unit's needs (see AR 58–1).

(3) Volunteers who are assigned to operate administrative vehicles will be required to complete the same training and screening and maintain the same qualifications as other employees who drive comparable vehicles. They must meet the requirements of AR 600–55 (for example, they must possess a current valid driver's license from a state, U.S. Territory, U.S. possession, or overseas authority, and measures are taken to identify those personnel who are authorized and qualified to operate such vehicles). Those personnel who operate administrative vehicles should be screened through the National Driver Register, to the extent possible, to preclude those individuals with questionable driving records from operating Government vehicles.

d. Other requirements when operating Government vehicles. Permission to operate Government-owned or Governement-leased administrative vehicles will be in writing. Volunteers will operate only Government vehicles that have been dispatched to them. Volunteers will be informed of the requirement that Government vehicles be used only for official business (see AR 58–1).

e. Investigation of incidents. Standard procedures used to investigate and/or adjudicate incidents involving employees are used, when appropriate, to investigate and/or adjudicate similar incidents arising from voluntary services provided under 10 USC 1588.

f. Official mail. Use of official mail as deemed necessary and appropriate to execute assigned volunteer duties. Family readiness group newsletters must meet the guidelines in AR 215–1.

g. Reimbursement of incidental expenses.

(1) The sponsoring organization's commanding officer or official in charge accepting the voluntary services will determine if reimbursement is necessary to obtain the voluntary services, and will decide if the total amount to be reimbursed is reasonable in relation to the value of the voluntary services provided, following coordination with the resource manager. Volunteers may not be compensated for the service provided except for the reimbursement of incidental expenses incurred while providing voluntary services accepted by the organization. However, there is no requirement to reimburse incidental expenses of volunteers.

Appendix J
Army Family Readiness Groups Operations

J–1. Concept and purpose

a. The FRG is a unit commander's program formed in accordance with AR 600–20. Normally FRG will be established at the company level, with battalion and brigade levels playing an important advisory role. FRG are not a morale, welfare, and recreation program; a NAFI, a private organization; or a nonprofit organization.

b. An FRG is a command-sponsored organization of Soldiers, civilian employees, Family members (immediate and extended) and volunteers belonging to a unit. FRG will provide mutual support and assistance, and a network of communications among the Family members, the chain of command, and community resources. FRG will assist unit commanders in meeting military and personal deployment preparedness and enhance the Family readiness of the unit's Soldiers and Families. They will also provide feedback to the command on the state of the unit "Family."

c. Family readiness is the mutual reinforcement and support provided by the unit to Soldiers, civilian employees, and Family members, both immediate and extended.

d. The rear detachment commander is the unit commander's representative at home station while the unit is deployed and is the FRG link to the deployed unit. All logistic support for FRG (for example, meeting rooms, nontactical vehicle use, office equipment and computers, newsletters, telephones, and volunteer support) is authorized by the rear detachment commander during deployment.

e. The garrison ACS Center and RC Family Programs Office will assist unit commanders in establishing successful FRG by providing expertise, classes, training, and support to FRG and the FRG leadership, as outlined in AR 608–1.

f. Unit commanders will ensure that their FRG appeal to all service members, civilians, and Family members regardless of rank structure or Family size, composition, language spoken, and other characteristics. Commanders will seek FRG leaders who are particularly adept at energizing both officer and enlisted corps' Families. FRG that do not reflect their unit's demographics or have a high level of Family participation will be reevaluated to address impediments that exist toward creating a balanced and representational FRG. Typical issues could be FRG meeting times, unmet child care needs, FRG activities that do not match FRG member needs, FRG that do not provide training programs relevant to FRG Family needs, and other Family support issues.

J–2. Family Readiness Groups roles and functions

a. The FRG mission is to—

(1) Act as an extension of the unit in providing official, accurate command information.

(2) Provide mutual support between the command and the FRG membership.

(3) Advocate more efficient use of available community resources.

(4) Help Families solve problems at the lowest level.

b. The type and scope of FRG mission activities will depend on a number of factors such as—

(1) The Commander's budget for FRG mission activities.

(2) The identified needs of unit Soldiers, civilian employees, and their Families.

(3) Command interest and emphasis.

(4) The number of FRG members.

(5) The time, energy, and creativity of FRG membership.

(6) The makeup of the FRG, including the percentages of single Soldiers, number of years Soldiers and their Families have served with the military, number of Families with young children, and other Family composition factors.

(7) The unit's training and deployment schedule.

c. FRG are official DA programs established pursuant to AR 600–20. FRG mission activities and appropriated fund expenditures are subject to DOD 5500.7–R, DOD 7000.14–R, 31 USC 1341, and all other applicable statutory and regulatory restraints on official activities, use of appropriated funds, and fundraising.

d. Certain FRG mission activities are essential and common to all FRG. They include FRG member meetings, FRG staff and committee meetings, publication and distribution of FRG newsletters, maintenance of updated Family rosters and Family readiness information, establishment of FRG member telephone trees and e-mail distribution lists, and scheduling educational briefings for FRG members. FRG activity level can vary depending on unit mission and on whether the unit is in pre-deployment or post-deployment, deployed, or in a training/sustainment period at the home station.

e. FRG social activities can enhance Family and Soldier camaraderie, provide stress relief, and reduce Family loneliness during deployments. Social activities will not be funded using appropriated funds. FRG members may use money contained in an FRG informal fund to pay for social activities described in paragraph J–7.

J–3. Resources

FRG mission-essential activities are supported using the unit's appropriated funds, excluding BA11/OPTEMPO. FRG mission-essential activities authorized appropriated fund support may not be supported with NAFs. FRG mission-essential activities may not be augmented with private money. Such augmentation may be a violation of 31 USC 1345. FRG appropriated fund resources may not be used to support private organization activities, internal fundraisers, or commercial ventures.

a. Government office space and equipment. FRG may use Government office space, computer and office equipment, faxes, e-mails, scanners, and so on to support the FRG mission.

b. Paper and printing. FRG may use Government paper and printing supplies to publish FRG newsletters to relay information from the command and to support any FRG mission activity. Commanders will decide how frequently newsletters will be published. Each unit will have a standard operating procedure (SOP) on the preparation, printing, and distribution of FRG newsletters. FRG newsletters may be distributed by the Army or installation post office or via e-mail to FRG members.

c. Army and installation post offices and official mail. FRG are authorized to use official mail for official, mission-related purposes and as approved by the unit commander.

(1) Unofficial information may be included in an official FRG newsletter, provided: it does not exceed 20 percent of the printed space used for official information; it does not increase printing and mailing costs to the Government; and it does not include personal wanted/for sale advertisements. The FRG newsletter must state whether it contains only official information or both official and unofficial information.

(2) If the newsletter contains both types of information, it will include the following statement: "The inclusion of some unofficial information in this FRG newsletter has not increased the costs to the Government, in accordance with DOD 4525.8–M."

d. Government vehicles. In accordance with AR 58–1, the unit commander may authorize Government vehicle use in support of official FRG activities, including the transportation of FRG members for FRG mission-related activities. Government vehicles may be used to support official FRG activities when—

(1) The appropriate commander determines that the use of the vehicle is for official purposes and that failure to provide such support would have an adverse effect on the FRG mission.

(2) The driver has a valid and current license to operate the vehicle and all other regulatory requirements regarding the use of the Government vehicle have been followed.

(3) The use of the vehicle can be provided without detriment to the accomplishment of the unit's mission.

e. Child care. Depending on availability of funds, unit commanders may authorize appropriated funds for—

(1) Childcare for command-sponsored training in accordance with AR 608–10, paragraphs 3–2 and 3–4.

(2) Needed Family support, including child care, education, and other youth services for Armed Forces members who are assigned to duty or ordered to active duty in conjunction with a contingency operation (see 10 USC 1788(b) and DODI 1342.22).

f. Statutory volunteers. The unit commander may accept statutory volunteer labor to support the FRG mission, as described in paragraph J–4 and in accordance with this regulation. However, FRG volunteers are not considered statutory volunteers when they are participating in social or fundraising activities and are not entitled to reimbursement for incidental expenses during this period of time.

J–4. Volunteers

a. Volunteers. The Soldier and Family Readiness System relies heavily on the support of a professional volunteer cadre. Unit commanders may staff their FRG with volunteers, as provided in chapter 5 of this regulation and in accordance with 10 USC 1588.

(1) FRG volunteers in leadership and key roles, such as the FRG leader, treasurer, key caller, and welcome committee chair, must in-process through the local ACS Center for the Active Component or through the RC Family Programs Office. Commanders will ensure their volunteers are supervised in the same manner as an employee, that they have a position description, and that they have followed all other legal and regulatory requirements in accordance with chapter 5 of this regulation and 10 USC 1588.

(2) The local ACS center, RC Family Programs Office, or AVCC will provide unit commanders or their designees with expert guidance on the Army Volunteer Corps Program. They will provide commanders with standard FRG volunteer position descriptions and answer volunteer questions. The unit commander will ensure that the AVCC is provided the FRG volunteers' work hours monthly to track volunteerism within their areas of responsibility and for volunteer recognition purposes.

(3) FRG volunteers are authorized to use Government facilities to accomplish their assigned duties. This includes the use of office and meeting spaces; telephone, computer, e-mail, and copying equipment; administrative supplies; administrative and logistical support; and additional equipment. Government computer use, including e-mail and internet use, is authorized for official FRG business only.

(4) To support official FRG activities, FRG volunteers may operate Government-owned or Government-leased nontactical vehicles with a gross vehicle weight of less than 10,000 pounds, provided they meet the licensing requirements set forth in AR 600–55.

(a) The authorization to drive a Government-owned or Governement-leased nontactical vehicle will be included in the volunteer's position description.

(b) Vehicular accidents occurring while an FRG volunteer is operating a Government vehicle must be reported in accordance with AR 385–10.

b. Funding for volunteer support. Appropriated funds may be used to support FRG volunteers, with command preapproval and funding availability. Appropriated funds for volunteer support may be used for—

(1) Training and travel expenses. Commanders may, at their discretion, authorize payment for travel and training of official statutory volunteers.

(a) Authorized FRG volunteer travel may include FRG volunteer visits to geographically dispersed members of the FRG in direct support of the FRG mission.

(b) Enrollment, travel, per diem, and other expenses may be funded for training to improve FRG volunteers' effectiveness or enable them to accept positions of increased responsibilities. Invitational travel orders are authorized, pursuant to the JFTR, appendix E, part I, paragraph A, and Secretary of the Army travel policy. Funding will depend on command preapproval and availability of funds.

(2) Reimbursement of incidental expenses. Unit commanders may budget for the reimbursement of official volunteer incidental expenses using appropriated funds for FRG volunteers, as authorized by this regulation and 10 USC 588. Volunteers may be provided reimbursement for incidental expenses (out-of-pocket expenses) such as child care, long-distance telephone calls, mileage, and other expenses incurred while supporting the FRG official mission, in accordance with chapter 5 of this regulation and DODI 1100.21 and the commander's FRG budget standard operating procedure (SOP) (see app J–6).

(3) Awards, recognition, and mementos. Appropriated funds will not be authorized or available for volunteer awards other than official certificates of recognition or volunteer incentive awards in accordance with AR 672–20. NAFs will be authorized for garrison volunteer recognition programs, awards, and banquets and to purchase mementos consistent with AR 215–1. Unit commanders will ensure that their FRG volunteers' hours are submitted monthly to the garrison AVCC and that FRG volunteers are recognized at garrison community volunteer recognition ceremonies.

c. Authorizing travel. Commanders may not authorize travel or the reimbursement of volunteer incidental expenses for members of their household or other persons that could present a potential conflict of interest (see DOD 5500.7–R). Commanders will forward these decisions to the next senior level officer within the commander's chain of command for determination. Commanders will seek guidance regarding specific ethics issues from their servicing ethics counselors.

J–5. Family Readiness Support Assistants

In the Active Army, commanders may authorize units to hire Family Readiness Support Assistants (FRSAs) who provide unit FRSA administrative support services.

a. FRSA required training to be completed through classes at ACS, Family Programs, or online at www.myarmylifetoo.com. Within the first 60 days of assuming duties, the FRSA must complete the following training classes.

(1) Army Family Team Building Levels I and II.

(2) Rear Detachment Commander Training.

(3) FRG Volunteer Leader Training.

(4) Operation READY FRSA Training.

b. Other recommended FRSA training includes:

(1) Civilian Personnel Office, time and attendance and benefits.

(2) Virtual Family Readiness Group System Training.

c. The FRSA deployment assistant will coordinate training through local community resources and provide administrative collaboration between the rear detachment commander and the FRSA leader. The FRSA deployment assistants will not duplicate services or overlap existing resources in the military community.

d. The FRSA deployment assistant works for the unit commander, who will have day-to-day operational direction of the assistant's activities. The duties of the FRSA deployment assistant will not conflict with the duties of the volunteer FRSA leadership. The FRSA deployment assistant will not be involved in FRSA informal fundraising activities, casualty assistance procedures, suicide prevention activities, teaching Family readiness training, Family counseling, or other non-FRSA official administrative support duties.

e. The Army National Guard may hire FRSA assistants to assist the State Family Program Directors at Joint Force Headquarters, and the U.S. Army Reserve may hire mobilization and deployment assistants to assist the Family programs directors at regional readiness commands.

J–6. Budget process

a. Family Readiness Groups operations. These are funded by the unit commander's appropriated funds, excluding BA11/OPTEMPO. Commanders will consider FRG mission activity requirements when planning their yearly budget. FRG budget needs vary widely and are highly dependent on location, the unit's mission and deployment situation, the composition of the FRG membership, and component.

b. Family Readiness Groups budget standard operating procedures. Commanders will approve an SOP that describes the support available for FRG mission activities and the procedures for FRG leaders and volunteers to request support. FRG leaders must be familiar with the SOP. A sample SOP is included in Operation R.E.A.D.Y training materials.

c. Government purchase card. Commanders will use a Government purchase card to pay for FRG operating expenses, when practicable. For example, commanders may use their Government purchase card to purchase supplies, equipment, room rental, or any other approved item to support official FRG mission activities. The FRG budget SOP will include a requirement that FRG leaders fill out appropriate forms and submit them to the commander for approval. The SOP will also state the procedures for requesting reimbursement for incidental expenses for FRG volunteers.

J–7. Family Readiness Groups informal funds
a. Authorization.

(1) Commanders may authorize their FRG to maintain one informal fund in accordance with AR 600–20. No more than one FRG informal fund per unit may be authorized. Informal funds are private funds generated by FRG members that are used to benefit the FRG membership as a whole. FRG informal funds may not be deposited or mixed with appropriated funds, unit MWR funds, the unit's cup and flower funds, or any individual's personal funds. The expenditure of informal funds will be consistent with Army Values, DOD 5500.7–R, and AR 600–20.

(2) Examples of authorized use of informal funds include FRG newsletters that contain predominantly unofficial information and purely social activities, including, but not limited to, parties; social outings, volunteer recognition (not otherwise funded with APFs), and picnics.

(3) Examples of unauthorized use of FRG informal funds include augmenting the unit's informal funds (the unit's cup and flower funds); purchasing items or services that are authorized be paid for with appropriated funds; purchasing traditional military gifts, such as Soldier farewell gifts that are not related to Family readiness; and funding the unit ball.

b. Fund custodian. The unit commander will sign a letter designating a fund custodian (treasurer) and an alternate. The fund custodian and alternate must not be the unit commander, a deployable Soldier, or the FRG leader. The fund custodian is responsible for informal fund custody, accounting, and documentation.

(1) The FRG informal fund custodian and alternate are personally liable for any loss or misuse of funds.

(2) After designation of the informal fund custodian, the custodian may establish a noninterest bearing bank account under the FRG's name (never the individual's name). The commander will authorize opening the account and prepare a letter naming the fund's custodian and alternate as persons authorized to sign checks drawn on the account. The commander will not be a signatory on the account.

(3) The informal fund custodian will provide informal fund reports to the unit commander monthly and as requested. An annual report on the FRG informal fund activity will be provided to the first colonel (O–6) commander or designee in the unit's chain of command no later than 30 days after the end of the calendar year. These reports will summarize the informal fund's financial status, to include current balance, total income, and an itemized list of expenditures along with an explanation showing how the expenditures are consistent with the purpose of the FRG informal fund as established in the SOP.

(4) Although not required, commanders may consider requiring the FRG informal fund to be bonded in accordance with the procedures in AR 210–22.

c. The Family Readiness Groups informal fund standard operating procedures. All FRG informal funds will have an SOP. This document memorializes the FRG members' determination of the purpose of the FRG informal fund. The SOP may be a one-page document and must include—

(1) The FRG name.

(2) A description of the FRG's informal fund purpose and functions and a summary of its routine activities. For example, "The FRG's informal fund purpose and function are to provide support and recognition to FRG members during the following life events: births, birthday parties, new member welcome parties, departing member farewell parties, holiday parties, and so on."

(3) The following statement must be included in the FRG informal fund SOP: "This FRG informal fund is for the benefit of the FRG members only and is established exclusively for charitable purposes and to provide support to Soldiers and Family members as the Soldiers and Families adapt to Army life. It is not a business and is not being run to generate profits. It is not an instrumentality of the United States Government."

(4) The FRG informal fund SOP must be approved by the unit commander and a majority of the FRG members. It will be signed at a minimum by the FRG leader, the fund custodian (treasurer), and the alternate fund custodian. (A sample informal fund SOP is included in Operation READY training materials.)

d. Fundraising for Family Readiness Groups informal funds. DOD 5500.7–R authorizes official fundraising by organizations composed primarily of DOD or DA employees and their dependents when fundraising among their own members or dependants for the benefit of their own welfare funds. Fundraising will be approved by the appropriate commander after consultation with the DA ethics official or designee.

(1) An Army organization—including, but not limited to, units, installations, and FRG—may officially fundraise from its own community members or dependents and from all persons benefiting from the Army organization. (For example, an installation may benefit from the brigade or unit FRG, thus permitting a brigade or unit FRG to fundraise throughout the installation.) Fundraising must be for the organization's informal fund, as opposed to a private charity, a particular military member, or a similar cause, and be approved by the commander with cognizance over the organization and coordinated with the commander with cognizance over the location of fundraising if different from the organization area. Commanders will consult with their Staff Judge Advocate or ethics counselor and avoid all conflicts with other authorized fundraising activities.

(2) Commanders may approve requests from FRG informal funds to conduct fundraising events in accordance with the requirements of DOD 5500.7–R as described above and in compliance with AR 600–29.

(3) Informal fundraising that occurs within the Army Reserve will have the approval of the unit commander and the servicing Staff Judge Advocate and/or ethics counselor. To address fundraising issues within the Army Reserve, refer to Army Reserve regulations.

e. Informal fund cap. FRG are not established to raise funds, solicit donations, or manage large sums of money. They are not equipped to handle the stringent accounting requirements that can result from excessive informal funds. FRG informal funds will therefore not exceed an annual gross receipt (income) cap of $10,000 per calendar year from all sources, including fundraising, gifts, and donations. Unit commanders may establish a lower annual income cap.

(1) State and local laws and the requirements of Status of Forces Agreements may make a lower FRG informal fund cap necessary at some locations within or outside the continental United States. Commanders and fund custodians will consult their Staff Judge Advocates to ensure that FRG informal funds comply with all local requirements.

(2) FRG informal funds may only be raised and maintained for specific planned purposes consistent with the purpose of the informal fund. If the purpose of the fundraising event is inconsistent with the FRG informal funds SOP, commanders will not approve the fundraising event.

(3) The FRG informal fund ledger will reflect the costs earmarked for the planned event. For example, if an FRG is planning a holiday party with a planned cost of $3,000, the ledger might reflect the following costs: dinner $2,100; hall rental $250; and band $650.

f. Gifts to Family Readiness Groups informal funds. Unit commanders may accept an unsolicited gift or donation of money or tangible personal property of a value of $1,000 or less for its FRG informal fund after consultation with the unit ethics counselor. Unsolicited gifts or donations to the FRG informal funds are considered income and impact the FRG informal fund annual income cap of $10,000.

J–8. Family Readiness Groups external fundraising
As an official activity of the DA, the FRG may not engage in external fundraising and may not solicit gifts and donations. However, in accordance with AR 1–100 and with the advice of the ethics counselor, commanders and FRG leaders may, in response to an appropriate inquiry, inform potential donors of the needs of the Army in relation to assisting Army Families.

J–9. Unsolicited donations to the active component
a. Appropriate gift acceptance authorities may accept unsolicited gifts and donations made to the Army intended for FRG support; these donations will be added to the garrison's FRG supplemental mission account, pursuant to paragraph 3–2*a* of this regulation and AR 215–1 after consultation with an ethics counselor. The director, MWR (DMWR) will assign these donations intended for FRG use to program code SA, department code "9J," to prevent disbursing donations intended for FRG use into another ACS mission or for any other purpose. These supplemental mission donations do not expire at the end of the fiscal year, and balances automatically roll over into the following fiscal year.

b. Acceptance authority levels for unsolicited gifts and donations to the FRG supplemental mission account will be in accordance with the rules governing gifts to NAFI in AR 215–1.

c. Supplemental mission donations are NAFs that may be used only to supplement the mission activity. They are not MWR NAFs. MWR NAFs may not be expended for FRG support. Commanders may use supplemental mission donations intended for FRG for any purpose that the commander determines clearly supplements an established mission of the FRG so long as appropriated funds are not authorized. However, in accordance with the policies listed in chapter 5 of this regulation, supplemental mission donations may be used for reimbursement of statutory volunteer incidental expenses if appropriated funds are not available. The use must be consistent with this regulation and the provisions governing supplemental mission NAFs in AR 215–1 and DODI 1015.15.

(1) The first priority in using supplemental mission NAFs intended for FRG is to encourage maximum attendance and participation at FRG meetings—for example, by providing food and refreshments. Using supplemental mission NAFs to support a unit ball is an example of an unauthorized expenditure because it fails to supplement an established mission of the FRG.

(2) Commanders may not authorize the use of supplemental mission NAFs for any purpose that cannot withstand the test of public scrutiny or which could be deemed a misuse or waste of funds. Using supplemental mission NAFs to fund a lavish cruise to promote "cohesion" among FRG members is an example of an excessive and inappropriate use of funds.

d. Supplemental mission NAFs are not informal funds. The provisions concerning informal funds contained in this regulation are inapplicable to supplemental mission NAFs. Supplemental mission NAFs will not be deposited into an FRG informal fund and will not impact the annual FRG informal fund income cap.

e. The DMWR will properly disburse supplemental mission donations intended for FRG support. The unit commander will submit an approved purchase request that includes a brief description of the item(s) requested, total funds required, dates the items are needed, and vendor or source of the items to be purchased to the DMWR for processing. The DMWR will disburse such supplemental mission donations between FRG supported by that garrison's ACS Center, to include recruiting and the Army Reserve Component. Army National Guard units are not included for these supplemental mission accounts.

f. Garrison commanders may accept unsolicited gifts into the supplemental mission program when the donor intends the donation or gift to be used only in support of FRG that are experiencing certain deployment cycle events, such as preparing for deployment, deployment, and redeployment. The DMWR will ensure that the supplemental mission donations are disbursed to FRG whose Soldiers are experiencing the deployment cycle event stated in the donation. This ensures that the garrison fulfills the conditions of the gift which the commander accepted. For example, a donor intends a gift to be used "for the Families of deployed Soldiers." The DMWR ensures only FRG whose units have deployed Soldiers share in the supplemental mission donation.

g. The garrison commander may not accept unsolicited gifts into the supplemental mission program when the donor intends the donation or gift to be used only by a named FRG. For example, a donor intends a gift to be used "for Brigade X's FRG." Garrison commander must decline the gift because it creates disparity between FRG experiencing the same deployment cycle events.

h. Commanders and FRG leaders must be careful to avoid stating or implying that the Army officially endorses any person or private organization that offers a gift. The commander and FRG leadership may not promise donors that donations are tax deductible. Businesses may be encouraged to speak with their tax adviser regarding business tax deductions.

i. Any commanders who are offered donations they may not accept, will consider referring the prospective donor to other Government or private organizations, such as Army Emergency Relief, local tax qualified charities, foundations, and fraternal or service organizations.

j. Commanders will seek guidance from their servicing Judge Advocate and ethics counselor when they receive offers of unsolicited donations for FRG support. For further regulatory instruction regarding gifts offered to the Army or to individuals (see AR 1–100 and AR 1–101).

J–10. Unsolicited donations to a reserve component
The procedures for accepting donations or gifts for an RC may differ, depending upon location and activation status. For RC units attached to an Army garrison or installation, see instructions above regarding the acceptance authority for accepting unsolicited donations intended for FRG support. For guidance regarding gifts intended for an RC not attached to a garrison or installation (see AR 1–100 and AR 1–101). Commanders are also encouraged to seek guidance from their ethics counselors (for specifics, refer to Reserve Command regulation).

J–11. Private organizations
Private organizations (POs) have substantially more authority than FRG to conduct fundraising and to engage in social activities in accordance with AR 210–22, AR 600–29, and DOD 5500.7–R. Individuals may establish POs that share the same Family readiness goals and objectives as FRG. To prevent potential conflicts of interest, if such POs are established, managers or board members of the PO will not also be placed in FRG leadership positions. It is essential that commanders and Government personnel treat such POs in the same manner as all similarly situated POs. Commanders may not direct the establishment or the activities of a PO and must treat POs according to the requirements of AR 210–22, AR 600–29, and DOD 5500.7–R, as applicable. Commanders will seek guidance from their servicing Judge Advocate's office and ethics counselor regarding private organization issues.

J–12. Commercial sponsorship
FRG may not enter into commercial sponsorship agreements. Commercial sponsorship is an agreed upon arrangement under which a business provides assistance, funding, goods, equipment, or services in exchange for public recognition or other promotional opportunities on the installation. In accordance with AR 215–1 and DODI 1015.10, commercial sponsorship is generally only authorized for official MWR programs and events.

J–13. Official information
Official FRG information relates to command and mission-essential information that the commander believes Families need to be better informed. Official information relates to unit mission and readiness. It includes training schedule information, upcoming deployments, unit points of contact, and the chain of concern. Official information is subject to all applicable regulations governing its use and to guidance in AR 25–55 and 5 USC 552(b).

Social media and Army Families

Social media is becoming a valuable tool for keeping Families and Soldiers connected, which is vitally important to unit well-being. Family Readiness Groups (FRGs) are key organizations. FRG social media sites have streamlined the process of finding out what is happening at an installation. They also provide discussion sections where the FRG, Soldiers and Families can post information and photos about installation news and activities. OCPA recommends FRG site be configured as closed groups for maximum safety.

Security and safety

- Do not reveal sensitive or personal information, such as addresses, schedules and event locations.

- Do not post when you are going on vacation or leaving the house

- Ask, "What could a person do with this information? Could it compromise the safety of myself, my Family or my unit?"

- Geotagging reveals your location to other people within your network. Smartphones can embed GPS coordinates into photographs and other data. Turn off the GPS function on smartphones and digital cameras. Always make sure to check that the geotagging is not reset after updating operating software.

- Closely review photos or videos before posting to ensure sensitive or personal information is not released.

- Talk to your Family about OPSEC. Be sure they know what can and cannot be posted.

- Look closely at all privacy settings. Set security options to allow visibility only to individuals you know.

- Platform security and privacy settings change frequently. Routinely check and update settings to be as restrictive as possible.

- Utilize two-step verification when possible to prevent unauthorized access in the event your password is compromised.

- Passwords should be at least 14-characters long and contain at least two: numbers, special characters, upper-case characters, and lower-case characters.

- Change passwords every 60 days.

- Do not share passwords.

Duty status-whereabouts unknown (DUSTWUN), missing in action (MIA) wounded in action (WIA) and killed in action (KIA)

Social media is a major part of our daily interactions, so when Soldiers are killed or missing in action, it is hard to turn off the flow of information distributed through social media platforms. While it is difficult to prepare for tragedy, it is important to know that social media can play a role (good or bad) in the handling of DUSTWUN, MIA, WIA or KIA situations.

In a DUSTWUN, MIA, WIA or KIA situation, members of the media may look at unit, Soldier and Family member Facebook profiles to find out more about the Service member. In a captivity situation, captors may also turn to Facebook to pull information for interrogation purposes. It is vitally important that you and your Family set privacy settings as restrictive as possible.

In accordance with DoDI 1300.18, Department of Defense (DoD) Personnel Casualty Matters, Policies, and Procedures, details about Soldiers killed or missing in action cannot be released until 24 hours after the next of kin has been notified and after the information has been released by the DoD. It is important that all friends, Family and fellow Soldiers know that information about individuals killed in action must not be released before the next of kin is notified. Always follow unit and Army protocol when it comes to DUSTWUN, MIA, WIA or KIA situations.

MEMORANDUM FOR (NAME OF UNIT) FAMILY READINESS GROUP

SUBJECT: Family Readiness Program Budget Standard Operating Procedures (SOP)

1. References.

    a. AR 600-20, Army Command Policy, 6 Nov 14

    b. AR 608-1, Army Community Service Center, 12 Mar 13

2. Purpose. To define procedures for the use and operation of the Commander's Budget for FRG mission activities.

3. Goal. The primary goal of the Family Readiness Group (FRG) Budget is to support our military mission through provision of support, outreach, and information to family members and soldiers. FRGs will provide mutual support and assistance, and a network of communications among the family members, the chain of command, and community resources.

4. Summary: FRGs are official DA programs subject to DOD 5500.7-R, DOD 7000.14-R, 31 USC 1341, and all applicable statutory and regulatory restraints on official activities, use of appropriated funds, and fundraising. The FRG is a unit commander's program formed in accordance with AR 600-20. Normally FRGs will be established at the company level, with battalion and brigade levels playing an important advisory role.

    a.   FRGs are not a morale and welfare, and recreation program: a NAFI; a private organization; or a nonprofit organization.

    b.   The FRG consist of Soldiers, civilian employees, family members, immediate and extended, and volunteers belonging to the unit.

    c.   FRGs will assist in meeting military and personal deployment preparedness and enhance the family readiness of the unit's Soldiers and families. They will also provide feedback to the command on the state of the unit "family."

5. FRG Budget: FRG Operations are funded by the unit commander's appropriated funds, excluding BA11/OPTEMPO. The commander will consider FRG mission activity requirements when planning their yearly budget. The budget will take into consideration supplies, equipment, room rental, or any other approved item that supports official FRG mission activities.

    a.   FRG mission essential activities may not be augmented with private money. Such augmentation will be a violation of 31 USC 1341.

b.   FRG appropriated fund resources may not be used to support private organization activities, internal fundraisers, or commercial ventures.

c.   Funding for volunteer support.

(1) Appropriated funds may be used to support FRG volunteers, with command pre-approval and funding availability. Appropriated funds for volunteer support may be used for:

i. Training and travel expenses may, at the discretion of the commander, be authorized for official statutory volunteers.

ii. Authorized FRG volunteer travel may include FRG volunteer visits to geographically dispersed members of the FRG in direct support of the FRG mission.

iii. Enrollment, travel, per diem, and other expenses may be funded for training to improve FRG volunteers' effectiveness or enable them to accept positions of increased responsibilities. Funding will depend on command pre-approval and availability of funds.

(2) Travel expenses may not be authorized for the members of the commander's household or other persons that could present a potential conflict of interest (see DOD 5500.7–R). These decisions must be forwarded to the next senior level officer within the commander's chain of command for determination. Seek guidance regarding specific ethics issues from servicing ethics counselors.

d.   Awards, recognition, and mementos. Unit commanders will ensure that their FRG volunteers' hours are submitted monthly to the garrison AVCC and that FRG volunteers are recognized at garrison community volunteer recognition ceremonies.

(1) Appropriated funds will not be authorized or available for volunteer awards other than official certificates of recognition or volunteer incentive awards in accordance with AR 672–20.

(2) NAFs will be authorized for garrison volunteer recognition programs, which may include the purchase and presentation of mementos, nonmonetary awards, certificates and identifying insignia consistent with AR 215-1. Nominal expenses for the purchase of food and beverages are authorized but limited to coffee, tea, juice, and/or soft drinks, and fruit, cheese and crackers, donuts, cookies, and/or cake. Banquets, luncheons, or meals are not authorized.

e. FRG leaders and volunteers must fill out a purchase request form and submit it to the commander for approval.

f. Government purchase cards may be used to pay for FRG operating expenses, when practicable.

g. Reimbursements.

        (1) Reimbursements for incidental expenses must be approved before the expense is made by any and all volunteers. All receipts must be submitted along with a memorandum detailing the expense, approving authority, date of approval, date expense was incurred and date of reimbursement.

        (2) Statutory volunteers assist and support the FRG mission as described in AR 608-1, Appendix J-4 and AR 608-1, Appendix J-3; however, they are not considered statutory volunteers when they are participating in social or fundraising activities and are not entitled to reimbursement for incidental expenses during this period of time.

REAL: Readiness Essentials for Army Leaders

ADMINISTRATION

Family Readiness Group (FRG) Positions

Definition of Key Family Readiness Roles

The following are key roles for Family Readiness that may be useful as a reference tool. Definitions are obtained from Army Regulation, Operations Orders, and other official Army guidance. Each position is key to achieving the Family Readiness mission.

Unit Commander:

The Unit Commander is overall responsible for determining how the FRG will function and ensuring the FRG is operating effectively. This is done by appointing a Family Readiness Liaison and approving volunteers. The Commander will provide support to FRG volunteers, regularly communicate to gauge progress, provide help when needed, and supervise their efforts toward the established Family readiness goals. Unit Commanders approve informal funds custodians to open a bank account. The Commander reviews and approves fundraisers after consulting with legal and ensures proper approval if outside of unit area. The Commander relays vital information is relayed and encourages all Soldiers, Families, and extended Families to participate in FRG activities.

First Sergeants and Command Sergeant Majors:

The First Sergeant (1SG) and Command Sergeant Major (CSM) play a vital role by knowing and supporting command Family readiness policies and goals. The 1SG and CSM assists Commander and FRG leaders with drafting and implementing family readiness plan. When new Soldiers and Families arrive the 1SG and CSM will provide information to the FRG Leader. The 1SG and CSM will encourage active participation and work with FRG leadership and Commanders to establish and enforce behavioral norms for soldiers at family readiness functions. 1SG's and CSM's confers with FRG leaders on Family readiness issues and assists them with resolution.

Senior Family Readiness Liaison (SFRL):

The SFRL is an additional duty designated in writing by the brigade and battalion commander to support the unit's steering committee regarding Soldier and Family Readiness. The SFRL provides assistance to subordinate unit FRL's and facilitates the free flow of information regarding committees. The SFRL serves as a point of contact to ensure subordinate units receive the necessary support from the brigade and battalion and provides advice to the brigade/battalion command teams regarding Soldier and Family readiness related issues. The SFRL does not supervise unit FRLs in the performance of this additional duty assignment.

Unit Family Readiness Liaison:

The unit FRL is an additional duty designated in writing by the company level commander as his/her FRG representative. The unit FRL ensures the free flow of information regarding Soldier and Family Readiness to and from the unit FRG, company leadership, SFRL, steering committees, and brigade and battalion command teams. The unit FRL assists the commander and FRG leader in maintaining a sufficient pool of volunteers dedicated to support the needs of the unit's Family Readiness Program. The FRL may act on behalf of the commander on Family Readiness issues.

Family Readiness Support Assistant:

Family Readiness Support Assistants (FRSA) are paid staff that work for the unit commander, dedicated to supporting the command's Family Readiness mission. Not all units will have FRSAs. By FY17 FORSCOM is expected to have completely drawn down their FRSA program; however no other command has made the same determination. The FRSA is in a support role to the Family Readiness team and helps in coordinating resources, information, meetings, trainings, and volunteers. Further, the FRSA assists the FRGL with FRG membership rosters, welcoming new Families, and assisting the Commander in identifying Family Readiness needs. FRSAs are not permitted the following duties: Any duty that conflicts with a volunteer role, informal fundraising activities, casualty assistance procedures, suicide prevention activities, teaching Family Readiness training, Family counseling or other non-FRSA official administrative support duties. The FRSA may not act on behalf of the Commander.

Other Family Readiness Group Key Roles

Other than the unit Commander, FRL, and FRSA the remainder of the FRG key roles are all volunteer in nature. As volunteers, those in key roles rely on their leadership to keep them informed, obtain resource, and provide guidance and leadership.

Family Readiness Advisors

Family Readiness Advisors are individuals who have had experience leading FRGs. These are typically Battalion and Brigade level volunteer positions and will often be composed of both an Enlisted and Officer Spouse. Advisors provide guidance to both FRG Leaders and Commanders with regard to running the Family Readiness program and help to provide consistency across company FRG activities and policies. Advisors are a part of the steering committees for the Battalion and the Brigade; helping to set the agenda, identify topics of interest, and issues that might need to be addressed.

Family Readiness Group Leader/Co-Leader

The FRG Leader (FRGL) and co-leader work as part of the FRG leadership team, as volunteers, to coordinate all FRG efforts. The role and responsibility of the FRG leader is established by the commander IAW AR 608-1, Appendix J. The roles and responsibilities are typically generic, but may vary with locality and mission of the unit. FRGLs act on behalf of command to provide Families and Soldiers with pertinent unit information, provide resources and referrals, and coordinate meetings and events for the FRG membership. FRGLs are the primary contact for Soldiers and Families regarding Family related issues and provide information on the climate of Family Readiness program to the command. FRGLs can be instrumental in identifying at risk Families, current issues and challenges and enhancing the connection between the unit and its Families.

Informal Funds Custodian

The FRG informal Funds Custodian is the command designated representative accountable for monitoring, managing, and accounting for FRG receipt and distribution of any and all FRG monies. Duties include: ensuring the informal funds SOP is current and adhered to; accounting for all money received into and disbursed from the FRG account; providing a monthly report to the company commander and an annual report to the Battalion and Brigade commanders.

Key Contact Coordinator and Key Contacts

Key Contacts are the grassroots means of FRG communication channels to the Families. Key Contacts are trained to respond to Families inquiries and refer/resource their immediate needs. Social Media, e-Army Messaging, E-Mail and other technological means of communications often provide a faster, more efficient and effective means of communicating mass messages regarding unit activities, events and information. However, Key Contacts provide the human connection that many military Families feel more comfortable. Key Contacts provide the most direct method of maintaining contact with Families who may choose not to engage current technology as a means of staying informed. A Key Contact Coordinator assists the FRGL with assigning key contacts from the member rosters, ensures Key Contacts are trained in resourcing, referring and crisis call management. Key Contacts function in both routine and critical mode. During routine mission/Garrison time, calls are more often received by the Key Contact than are made out to Families. During times of deployment Key Contacts are activated as the command determines necessary. FRG members may need to be contacted about a situation that any other method of communication would be inappropriate. Instances may include providing information about a deployment, dispelling rumors and gossip, unit status updates, or gathering specific information on behalf of the command. Key contacts are also a great resource to help welcome new families into the unit.

ADMINISTRATION

Volunteer Management

Identifying Volunteer Roles, Recruitment, and Selection

Position Descriptions

      Position descriptions are the key to an effective matching of volunteer skills with program needs, as well as providing the cornerstone for the supervision and evaluation processes that are an essential element in program management. A position description is a brief synopsis of what will be required of a volunteer. A well-crafted volunteer position statement is an invaluable tool for both the volunteer and the coordinator: allowing the volunteer to decide if they have enough time, possess the necessary qualifications, or the desire for this particular position prior to accepting the job.

      A carefully designed position description may motivate a volunteer to accept a position that could eventually lead to paid employment. A position description that clearly outlines the volunteer's responsibility ties reduces the risk of unrealistic expectations, especially those that can lead to dissatisfaction or burnout. It can also provide the documentation that can be referenced in the event of a misunderstanding.

      Army volunteer position descriptions must follow guidance in AR 608-1. The Army Reserve must follow guidance in USARC Regulation 608-1. Many organizations/units incorporate additional sections.

Position Title: The title reflects what the volunteer does.

Purpose: A short statement that reflects the outcome of the service to be performed. This helps meet the volunteer's need for a sense of achievement and accomplishment by identifying how their work fits into the overall goals of the program. Volunteers are more likely to be successful if they understand how what they are asked to do contributes to the mission.

Duties/Responsibilities: A detailed, bulleted list of the "what" and "how" of the job. Use a "task-specific" job description that lists the major tasks and specific duties involved in each area of responsibility. Make specific mention of any additional requirements such as whether or not the use of motor vehicle is required or prohibited.

Qualifications: All things necessary for the effective performance of duties, including the physical and human qualities desired. Be careful not to over-qualify the position, especially regarding educational requirements but do not waive qualifications once they are established.

Supervisor: Titles of first line and second line Supervisors. The first line supervisor is the person to whom the volunteer should go if questions arise about the specific work to be performed. The second line supervisor is the person from whom the volunteer should obtain guidance in the absence of the first line supervisor.

Training: Pre-service: Training such as orientation required prior to service. On the job: What type? Who provides? Ongoing: What is required, recommended? Include the type and specific content of the training and the approximate hours required for the training.

Time Commitment: An estimate of specific days and hours for an ongoing position or an estimate of the total time required to complete the job. Length of service (for example, 6 months, one year).

Signing and Dating the Description: The commander and the volunteer should jointly review the position description. Any mutually agreed upon adjustment to the position description can be noted and initialed before signature. Once the commander is in agreement with the expectations of the organization and the volunteer, it is good management practice for both of them to sign and date the document. The position description becomes a part of the volunteer record and is critical for feedback and evaluation as well as protecting both the Army and the volunteer.

Feedback is essential for both the volunteer and the supervisor to perform their respective duties well. Since the job description serves as a clear statement of a volunteer's duties, it should be used in volunteer/supervisor feedback sessions. If the volunteer was recruited and trained to perform a specifically stated function, then this statement can be used both in evaluating how things are going and where changes may need to be made.

Benefits: It is good practice to provide benefits for the volunteer. Be specific. List skill-building opportunities, how skills and performance will be documented for their resume, what kinds of the personal satisfaction they may expect to receive from the job, and how the job benefits the organization and the Army.

Regulatory Limitations
Regulatory limitations for volunteers to be considered when writing position descriptions and assigning duties.

- Volunteers must be supervised by a paid employee (Civil Service or NAF), a military member or another volunteer who is so supervised
- A contractor may not supervise volunteers
- Volunteers may not perform the work of a paid employee
- Volunteers may not perform the work included in a contractor's Statement of Work (SOW)
- Volunteers may not hold policy making positions

Recruiting Volunteers
Recruiting is a process that involves a sequence of steps or actions that lead to volunteer participation in your organization. A recruitment plan may be formulated based on ongoing volunteer needs of the organization. The plan can also consider special events that occur seasonally and require volunteers for a short period. When developing your plan, consider the competing priorities in the lives of potential volunteers–family, salaried jobs, recreational opportunities, and volunteer positions.

Types of Recruitment (adapted with permission from McCurley and Lynch, 1996).
1. "Warm Body" recruitment: This type of recruitment is used when large numbers of volunteers for short-term simple jobs and no special skills are needed—or skills can be learned quickly. Primary methods for "warm body" recruitment are:
   - Distribution of recruitment brochure or poster
   - Use of public service announcement on television, radio or newspaper
   - Advertisements
   - Speaking to community groups
   - Asking current volunteers to ask others to join

2. Targeted recruitment: Targeted recruitment is when you need volunteers with specific knowledge, skills, interests, and commitment. Questions to ask when considering a targeted recruiting campaign include:
   - What specifically needs to be done?
   - Who would want to do it?
   - Where would you find them?
   - How can you reach them?
   - What will motivate them – what are the incentives?
   - What will you say to them?
   - Who can best succeed at recruiting this specific population?

Targeting recruiting efforts can promote diversity within the Volunteer Corps and help serve the diverse population in today's Army. In this context, diversity may describe a person's race or ethnic background, economic status, religious preference, family composition, age, or educational attainment. Diverse volunteers can reach underserved audiences and can add creative ideas to existing programs.

Recruiting diverse volunteers can be accomplished through conventional methods.
- Personally extend invitations
- Present information as an invitation rather than an announcement
- Present information as an invitation rather than an announcement
- Use bilingual print information where it might be useful
- Hold meetings in the locations where the potential volunteers will be comfortable
- Consider the daily schedule of the potential volunteer
- Explain how the volunteer's work will benefit the community

3. Concentric Circles: This method of recruitment is designed to keep a continuous roster of volunteers available and utilizes people who are already involved in the program. Working outwards, this method usually involves face to face contact, with recruiters explaining their positive experiences in volunteer service.

4. Ambient Recruitment: Ambient recruitment involves establishing a "culture of volunteering" and builds an environment in which volunteerism is regarded as an expectation for everyone.
   Three steps are required to create an ambient recruitment campaign:
   - Support an official philosophy concerning volunteerism
   - Promote early emphasis encouragement/indoctrination about the importance of volunteering in the community
   - Provide logistical support and recognition to volunteers

Selecting and Assigning Volunteers
Selecting: Ensuring a Good Fit When selecting a volunteer for a position it is important to make sure there is a right "fit" between the volunteer, the role they are to play and FRG. Steps to ensuring the best fit include consideration of the following factors:
- To what extent is the volunteer interested in this position?
- To what extent is the volunteer qualified for this position?
- What are other skills or assets the volunteer has that would serve in a different position?
- To what extent is the volunteer suited for the work environment associated with this position?

Goodness of fit includes:
— Matters of style: relaxed vs. fast-paced — Personality: introverted vs. extraverted — Behavior: timeliness, responsibility
— Philosophy: beliefs about client population, military service, military families

Assigning Volunteers
Assigning means placing an individual in the most suitable volunteer position based on FRG standards, position descriptions and information learned.

Determining the correct assignment for a volunteer requires a careful matching of job qualifications and personalities that will result in job satisfaction for both the volunteer and the program staff. It is often desirable to provide a probationary period for the volunteer, at the conclusion of which the assignment will be reviewed and revised, if needed.

FACTORS THAT MOTIVATE VOLUNTEERS TO SERVE

Every volunteer has their own unique reason or motivation to offer their time, talents or resources to an organization. The key to effective volunteer motivation is to discover why that individual has the desire to volunteer. Listed below are the motivational factors for volunteering:

1. Achievement
Volunteers will experience a strong sense of achievement when their individual talents and skills are matched with the volunteer assignment. (Butler, Duffy & Miller, 2002)

2. Affiliation-Companionship and a Sense of Belonging
Individuals have the need to fit in or be affiliated with a group or club, volunteering with an organization will meet that need. (Spencer, 1999)

3. Power/Control
 Individuals have the need to feel in control of their lives. Many times the workplace does not allow this need for control to be filled; individuals simply follow directions from employers. Volunteer roles which allow individual creativity and control can be a strong motivator for many individuals. (McCurley & Lynch, 2000)

4. Recognition
Recognition is a need for many volunteers. Recognition can be in many forms; it might be presenting an award in a public forum or a simple heart felt thank you from a child. Volunteers have different recognition needs, the task is to discover the type of recognition which meets the needs of each individual volunteer. (Taggart, 1999)

5. Personal Growth
Volunteers need to feel that they are learning and growing from their volunteer experience. Educational opportunities that will enable volunteers to excel in their role need be made available. (Etling, 1995)

6. Family Involvement
Involve the children and the adult's involvement will follow. Individuals with families seek out opportunities to volunteer which will increase family time together. The key to success of this factor is to keep volunteers in roles which they can serve along side their family members. (Butler, Duffy & Miller, 2002)

7. Community Service
Volunteers have the desire to give back to their community or help those in need. (Muegge & Ross, 1996)

8. Bringing About a Social Change
Volunteers possess a desire to bring about change in a community or an organization. (Butler, Duffy & Miller, 2002)

Scenarios: Describes a situation which the person may encounter in the position. Interviewer learns how the interviewee would react in a similar situation by testing their problem solving abilities.
An example would be "What would you do if you arrived at the job and you found yourself without a supervisor."?

Question layering: Using a series of behavioral and non -behavioral questions, often overlapping, designed to gather information around a single theme to check for consistency and depth.
An example would be to ask a total of three questions about their organizational skills interspersed with another skill that may build upon the first skill " How would you design a training for new volunteers? How would involve the volunteers in evaluating that training? How would you use the information from the volunteers as a recruitment tool?

Mobilizing Volunteers

Mobilizing a Volunteer Team involves three sequential phases engaging, motivating and supervising volunteers. Engaging volunteers by capturing their interest and getting them involved in their job needs to occur at the earliest possible opportunity so that volunteers retain their interest in volunteerism and in their assigned project. Early engagement can also accelerate the establishment of positive, cooperative working relationships between volunteers and paid staff.

Motivating volunteers requires skills, planning and a balancing act in order to meet the needs of various types of volunteers. Motivation is an ongoing activity, and an essential aspect of getting the work done both initially and for the long term, when volunteer interest can diminish. Supervision, the third dimension, provides a solid basis for risk management, program evaluation, and portfolio building for the volunteer.

Engaging Volunteers

Positive working partnerships between paid and volunteer staff provide the basis for successfully engaging volunteers. Establishing these partnerships involves developing cordial and professional relationships between all staff as well as providing volunteers the information and tools needed to experience early success at their jobs. Including volunteer staff in agency meetings, whenever appropriate, and by including them in agency social activities may facilitate this positive partnership.

To effectively engage volunteers in a program or activity it is also necessary to provide the tools and information that will allow them to "get off to a good start" in their positions. These tools should support their understanding of what they are tasked to do and provide a framework within which they can learn to perform their jobs quickly and easily. Essential tools include, but are not limited to:

- Well-written position descriptions
- Schedule of work assignments
- Schedule of program events
- Schedule of training opportunities
- Chain-of-Command chart

Additional tools, used daily, include but are not limited to:

- Job Aids: checklists, step-by-step lists, decision tables, flowcharts
- Fact Sheets: rules, information sheets, program descriptions
- Checklists: equipment and supply lists
- Eligibility guidelines/information: handouts that include the criteria an individual must meet to in order to participate in a group
- Enrollment Forms: including contact information
- Cultural awareness/language information: specific to different ethnic and cultural groups, including alternate language versions wherever possible.

Motivating Volunteers

Organizations invest a substantial amount of time, educational and monetary resources in volunteer programs and volunteer development. Volunteer managers need to understand the motives that bring people to volunteer service, what makes them perform their best, what makes them stay and what makes them leave. Volunteer supervision, retention, efficiency, and productivity hinges on this knowledge.

Researchers David C. McClelland and John W. Atkinson identify three distinct motives that affect people's work-related behavior. Factors that motivate are:

- The need for achievement
- The need for power
- The need for affiliation

Achievement Motivated People

Achievement motivated people seek success in situations that require excellent or improved performance, and will do their best when their individual talents and skills are well matched with the volunteer assignment. They want to do their personal best, like to take responsibility for finding solutions to problems, are innovative, and want concrete feedback. They often work well alone and desire latitude in "how they do the job".

The negative aspect of achievement can be observed when people must do things their way, take credit for others' good works, are inflexible in their approach, or block new ideas or change. When achievement is used positively, there is a sharing of credit, shared information, responsibility and authority.

To supervise an achiever:
- Give assignments that require problem-solving skills
- Allow and encourage creative solutions, and
- Provide regular and concrete feedback

Power Motivated People

Power motivated people need to feel in control of their lives, and want to influence or have an impact on others. They are concerned about their reputation, have strong feelings about status and prestige, and like to change other people's behavior. They like to teach, motivate, create and challenge.

Power has both a positive face and negative face. Negative power, also known as personal power, is about personal gain, exerting personal dominance, and a tendency to treat people like pawns. It is often seen in the tendency to hoard information, a strong desire for a prestigious office or supplies, or special privileges. Positive power, also called socialized power, uses power to benefit the group, charismatically inspires people to action, and creates confidence in others.

To supervise a power person and maximize their contribution place them in a position where they can associate with leadership and can exert their influence to accomplish the agency goals.

Affiliation Motivated People

Affiliation motivated people are motivated by their connection to others. Affiliators enjoy companionship, a sense of belonging, mutual friendship, warm and friendly relationships, and helping people. They are often concerned about being liked and are sensitive to the needs of others.

A negative aspect of affiliation can be seen when a person pays too much attention to socialization, confuses or fails to respect personal and professional boundaries, or sacrifices goals and outcomes to keep other people happy. The positive dimension of affiliation emerges when people build teams to accomplish goals, are sensitive to people's feelings and are able to articulate their goals in "people terms".

To supervise an affiliator, ensure that their job involves a lot of personal interaction. Demonstrate a personal interest in them, especially while giving them feedback, either positive or negative.

Additional Factors

In addition to the three primary motivational categories, additional factors can often be identified. These factors also suggest ways to market to specific populations; for example, family groups or individuals wishing to learn job skills.
- Recognition: A volunteer may maintain a high level of motivation through simple forms of recognition for their volunteer service. This might include the honor of presenting an award in a public forum or receiving a simple heart felt thank you from a child.
- Personal Growth: Volunteer motivation may be enhanced by the knowledge that they are learning and growing from their volunteer experience. Educational opportunities that will enable volunteers to excel in their role need to be made available.
- Family Involvement: Involve the children and the adult's involvement will follow. Individuals with families seek out opportunities to volunteer that will increase family time together. Family involvement also includes projects in which husband and wife can work on together. For these purposes the definition of family may also include a group of friends.
- Community Service: Volunteers may be motivated by the desire to give back to their community or help those in need.
- Bringing About a Social Change: Volunteers may be motivated by a desire to bring about change in a community or an organization.

People rarely have single motivations. Most have a dominant motivational preference, but they usually exhibit characteristics of two or more. A volunteer's motivational preference may change over time or when their life situations change. A strong achiever who experiences the death of a close family member may exhibit a strong need for affiliation for a period of time, or a spouse who is interested in entering the work force may want to test their interest as a volunteer prior to committing to a job in a specific field. Astute supervisors will notice signs that a volunteer's motivations are shifting, and will adjust their supervisory strategies to meet the volunteer's changing needs.

Linking Motivation, Supervision and Recognition

Understanding a volunteer's motivations can be used in many other ways besides supervision. Individuals are more often motivated by feelings and sensitivities than by facts and logic. Volunteers are also motivated by their own individual goals, values and desires Smith,1998). Motivating is also key in recognizing and retaining volunteers. For example:

Recognition by Motivational Types (McCurley & Lynch, 2000)
>### Recognition for a power-motivated person:
>■ Recognition, nomination and presentation needs to be made by the leadership of the organization
>■ Promotions or "moving up the ladder" are the most effective means of recognition >■ Providing recognition publicly, in the newspaper, or at a >community function not just at a recognition event >### Recognition for an affiliation-motivated person:
>■ Recognition received at a group event in front of peers is most meaningful >■ Recognition should have a personal touch and be given by the organization >■ Volunteer should take part in the recognition to insure bonding with the organization.
>Bonding with the organization
>### Recognition for an achievement-motivated person:
>■ Recognition suggested by peers is very effective
>■ Effective recognition should be linked to a specific task or accomplishment >■ Recognition can be substantiated by records or facts
>■ Offer the opportunity for additional training or taking on more difficult tasks

Sustaining Volunteer Motivation

■ Volunteers need to know the organization's staff is approachable and available to assist with volunteer needs. Staff needs to keep volunteers informed. (Muegge & Lynch, 1996)
■ Provide volunteers with clear and concise position descriptions, including required time commitments (Corney, 2001)
■ Require an annual review, and discuss the volunteer's satisfaction or dissatisfaction in their current role.
>— Does the volunteer feel they are still effective in their current assignment?
>— Does the volunteer aspire for a more challenging assignment?
>— Is the volunteer effective in their current role, from the organization's viewpoint?
>— Do they have interests or talents that could enhance the organizational effectiveness, if they were given a different assignment?

■ Volunteers need to feel appreciated and respected for their contributions. Provide recognition suitable to the needs of the volunteer. (Spencer, 1999)
■ Organizations need to provide volunteers opportunities for growth and advancement by providing appropriate training. (Muegge & Lynch, 1996)
■ Involve volunteer input in the organization's establishment of goals, decision making and other administrative issues whenever possible.
■ Resolve conflicts when they arise.
>— Establish ground rules for conflict resolution >— Deal with feelings: volunteer and paid staff

— Define the conflict: listen to all sides
— Explore alternatives: look at consequences of possible solutions
— Select a solution: everyone wins, whenever possible
— Evaluate how the solution is working

■ Organizations need to show genuine interest in volunteers. Create a sense of teamwork through having fun together and socializing. Be sincere and honest with volunteers.

■ Be aware of the signs of burnout and protect the volunteer

Lack of Motivation

Factors that lead to a lack of motivation in volunteers include:

■ Placement in volunteer roles that are not clearly defined

■ Position descriptions that do not clearly outline volunteer responsibilities

■ Restricted opportunity for volunteers to demonstrate initiative or creativity

■ Assignment of mundane tasks exclusively makes volunteers feel that their work is not as valued and does not make a difference

■ Volunteer expectations that are higher than the reality of the volunteer assignment

■ Tension exists between volunteers and paid staff

■ Volunteers are not experiencing personal growth

Volunteers should be provided relevant feedback and encouragement that is matched to their motivational needs. Recognition programs need to include various forms of recognition that will be valued by different motivational types.

Review Checklist: Program Staff

Does supervisory staff understand the different motivations of volunteers in their program?

Are volunteer jobs or tasks assigned in a way that helps meet the motivational needs of volunteers?

Does the recognition program reward volunteer staff in a meaningful way?

Supervising Volunteers

Volunteer supervisors are responsible for their volunteers' progress and productivity. Army   program volunteer managers or supervisors typically have a strong knowledge of their program area and volunteer job responsibilities, and provide a sense of security for volunteers. It is their responsibility to provide on the job training, answer questions, and collaborate in solving problems.

Levels of Supervision Required

Army volunteers have two levels of supervision.

■ First line supervisor: The first line supervisor is the person directly supervising the volunteer's work. This may be a government employee, a military member, another volunteer so supervised. A contractor may not supervise a volunteer. A volunteer's job related issues should be addressed with the volunteer's first line supervisor.

■ Second line supervisor: The second line supervisor is the individual the volunteer goes to when there is a question and the first line supervisor is not present. This individual is sometimes responsible for record keeping, awards, and training.

The level of supervision given by the supervisor depends on the complexity of the tasks, the skill level of the volunteer, and the skill level of the supervisor. Most people require a higher level of supervision and direction while learning a job. As the volunteer and supervisor become more confident in the volunteer's skill and ability to perform the job, the supervisor may allow the volunteer to exercise more control over the work. The volunteer should view the supervisor as someone who can assist with problems, provide guidance in unusual situations, and help the volunteer become more knowledgeable.

Review Checklist: Program Staff

- Are volunteers invited to regular staff meetings and trainings?
- Do volunteers have regular meetings with their supervisor?

Working with Problem Volunteers

Working with "problem volunteers" can be a challenge. When problems arise as the result of interpersonal conflict or misunderstanding, and are temporary in nature, it is good practice to intervene quickly to resolve them, rather than alienate either staff or volunteer. These conciliatory actions model positive behaviors that, once learned, will spill over into other environments in a positive manner.

Skills that will assist this effort include:
■ Communication skills: Does the volunteer understand the problem and what is expected?
■ Personal and social skills: Does the volunteer have empathy with others, and sufficient motivation to seek a solution to the problem?
■ Corrective action planning: Is the volunteer able and willing to make an effort to solve the problem?

Review Checklist: Program Staff

- Are volunteer performance standards clearly stated?
- Are volunteer prohibitions clearly stated?
- Are procedures in place for resolving conflicts between volunteers and paid staff?
- Does volunteer and paid staff receive training in conflict resolution techniques and processes before problems occur?

PERFORMANCE REVIEW PROCESS WITH VOLUNTEERS

Many would see performance reviews for Volunteers as being too much or too formal. Others are scared off because they feel they don't have the skills or background to implement them or even introduce them to other Volunteers.

Another way to look at this as to see performance reviews as a reflection of the importance of the Volunteers who play key roles in our Family Readiness Program. It is an effective way of expressing appreciation, identifying issues and needs and holding both the Volunteers and the organization to account.

Increasing numbers of Volunteers are looking to develop and enhance their skills through Volunteer work and welcome opportunities to receive constructive feedback and opportunities to reflect and develop further.

Initiating a Volunteer performance review process should be done sensitively and gradually taking into account any concerns Volunteers may have. Developing a self- assessment tool can be a good first step.

What is a Performance Review?

A performance review is a regular opportunity (usually 6 monthly or annually) to review how a Volunteer is tracking against a set of agreed outcomes. A good Volunteer Performance Review includes the following components:

- A written role description
- A mutually agreed set of outcomes for a particular role
- An implementation plan

The best performance reviews involve no surprises. Nothing the Volunteer hears in the review should be new to them if the person they are reporting to has done their job and given them regular feedback in the proceeding period.

How does it work? The process can be formal or informal but it is important to schedule a time for it and then stick to it.

Before the session:
- Have the volunteer fill out a self-assessment of how they think they've done against the objectives that were set
- Review the Volunteers role description, outcomes/goals
- Do your own evaluation on how you think the Volunteer has performed against the outcomes that were agreed.

During the session:
- Together, review the role description
- Share positive feedback and appreciation
- Invite the Volunteer to share their self-assessment and assessment of the support they have received in their role
- Offer your assessment of the volunteers performance
- Discuss the barriers to the volunteers current or continued success
- Discuss future plans for the volunteers – what else they'd like to do, what development they might need etc.

After the session:
- Write a summary report for the volunteers file which both you and the volunteer sign off on
- Follow-up on actions and agreements

- Write letters of reference to prospective employers.
- Surprise a volunteer with a birthday cake.
- Praise in public; especially in front of family and friends.
- Stage a potluck dinner in a volunteer's honor.
- Have reserved seating at any event.

Appreciation

Volunteers like to be appreciated for what they do for the FRG. Some are interested in doing things that are beneficial for people they care about. But even those who profess not to be driven by recognition need to be praised for their efforts. In addition to the FRG leader's positive attitude, kindness, and helpful leadership, there isn't much else to motivate volunteers. Recognition is so easy to give, too. So, give it often. It's good leadership, and it's the right thing to do.

Important times to recognize FRG volunteers include:

- Completion of a special project or event
- Birthdays
- National Volunteer Week, held every April
- When the military mission is complete and troops return
- Before a volunteer transfers or resigns

Instructions for Use of Family Information Data Sheet

PURPOSE: To ensure that all installation ACS staff participating in the Soldier Readiness Processing collect the same data on soldiers and their families. This will allow ACS to notify families, who do not live on or near installations, of the services that are available to them at a military installation. Use of this form will provide for standardized collection of data.

1. Use with Active Component Soldiers. This form is to be filled out by the soldiers during SRP. A copy of the completed form will be maintained at ACS by unit designation and one copy will be made available to the Rear Detachment Commander.

2. Use with Reserve Component Soldiers (Army National Guard and Army Reserve Soldiers processing at the installation). This form is to be filled out by the soldiers during SRP. A copy of the completed form will be retained by ACS until thirty (30) days after the projected release from active duty, one copy will be sent to the soldier's designated family member and one copy will be sent to the Family Service Center of the nearest military installation to the designated family member.

ARMY COMMUNITY SERVICE

Real-Life Solutions for Successful Army Living

The Family Readiness Group (FRG) is one element of the Family Readiness System which helps execute the unit Family Readiness Program. It is a command sponsored organization of Soldiers, civilian employees, Family members (immediate and extended) and volunteers belonging to a unit. The FRGs provide mutual support and assistance and a network of communications among the Family members, the chain of command and community resources.

What are the mission essential tasks of an FRG?

Communication – this includes member meetings, educational briefings, newsletters, and dissemination of official unit information.

Maintenance of Contact Rosters – Contact rosters allows the unit to quickly disseminate information to FRG members identified by unit Soldiers.

What is the benefit of an FRG to the unit?

A unit FRG enhances increased levels of confidence, commitment, and a sense of well-being among Soldiers and Family members. A well-functioning FRG can minimize the escalation of challenges. The demand on a unit commander's time and military resources can be significantly reduced through appropriate referral to other resources and agencies. FRGs can help families overcome problems that are likely to impact adversely on Soldier's performance.

What regulations impact FRGs?

AR 608-1, Appendix J; AER 609-2 (USAREUR); AR 600-20; AR 600-8-1010; DoDI 1342.22

Where can I get more information on FRGs?

Contact your local Army Community Service.

Tips on Working with Chain of Command

The ability to communicate clearly—to get your intent and ideas across so that others understand your message and act on it—is one of the primary qualities of leadership; this extends to the FRG.

Five tips for Effective Communication:

1. Focus Your message: all messages fit into one of two categories:
   - Action-and-information messages ask the receiver to do something: Schedule a meeting; make a decision; attack a hilltop.
   - Information-only messages tell the receiver something: The primary cause of the American Civil War was states' rights; Estelle LaMonica is the new Vice President of Human Resources; Alpha Company has one vehicle down for battle damage. You must focus—clarify—your message so your receiver is certain—clear—on what he or she is supposed to do or know.
2. Break through the noise: be clear and use descriptive language, avoid "fluff."
3. Put your Bottom line Up Front (BLUF): get to your point in the first 10 seconds of your message. Commanders often have a lot going on and want to know, quickly, how the message affects them. If you don't meet this critical tip, they may tune out or be less receptive to your message.
4. Use simple words. Your communication will be clearer.
5. Use concrete words. They help draw a picture for the receiver to visualize much quicker.

Getting Started:

1. Know your Audience: The type of program you present depends on who is expected to attend
   - Do you have a majority of married with young or older kids?
   - Do you have a majority of younger, single soldiers?
   - Do you have a Unit unemployment problem?
   - Ask your Commander, Readiness NCO, 1SG, FRG Liaison
2. Know your Purpose: What type of event are you hosting
   - Mandatory Fun/Family Day
   - Pre or Post Deployment information
   - Updated Benefits briefing
   - Fundraiser for future event
   - New Soldier/Family welcome information
   - Organization and Planning: What will it take to host this event
   - Location, Date/Time
   - Estimated number in attendance
   - Volunteer support
   - Unit support/State Family Programs support/Outside agency support
   - Necessary supplies
   - Available resources
   - Budget
   - Supporting Regulations
3. Communication:
   - Create a simple document outlining your event
     - Timeline

- o Supplies
- o Manpower
- o Supporting documentation
- o Budget proposal

- Email your commander a request to either an in person or telephone meeting to discuss our event proposal.

  "MAJ Smith,

  Please see attached Event Proposal information. I would like to schedule a meeting to discuss this concept, either in person or by phone. I estimate it will take approximately 30-40 minutes to go over the proposal and answer any questions you may have. I have the following times and dates available, let me know what works best for your schedule."

  Here you've provided a BLUF "Event Proposal" with the simple document attached that he/she needs in order to be properly prepared for your meeting at the mutually agreed upon time.

DO:

- Use short sentences with an active voice. Eg. "We have prepared the attached event proposal" instead of "The attached event proposal was prepared by the FRG Leader, co-leader, and fund custodian."
- Use white space. Providing headings and lists organizes the information for the receiver. Keep paragraphs to no more than about 6 lines. This makes the message easier to read and receive.
- Use spell and grammar check. Incorrect spelling and punctuation can both confuse the reader and affect your credibility.
- Behave professionally. You may not receive the answer or response you want or intended. If this is the case, it is acceptable to ask the commander his/her reasoning behind the response or decision.

DON'T:

- Call/walk in to his/her office and demand they make time for you to discuss the proposal. They may say they don't have the time (which will have wasted your time in travelling to meet them) or they will be flustered with your inconsideration of their scheduled time and be less apt to receive your message.
- Overcomplicate your message. Keep the message to two to three main points and stay on one topic, if at all possible.
- Ignore feedback. Acknowledge the responses of others, this builds a culture of mutual respect.

Top 10 for FRG Leaders

1. Training, training and much more training. Be trained in all things FRG. One useful website: Myarmyonesource.com. They have online FRG Leader trainings on all things FRG. You do have to sign up (find the button at the upper right hand corner), but at the end you are given a certificate proving you did it all. Family Programs Office or ACS – Army Community Service is also a valuable resource. They offer more trainings and resources than you could ever need. Get it.

2. It takes a team. In the world of FRG, we have our unit commander, 1SG, and Family Readiness Liaison (FRL)/ Family Readiness Support Assistant (FRSA). This is your leadership team. They will provide you with direction, mission, information, resources, paperwork and support. Then there are your teammates, the ones who do the work with you, your fellow volunteers. Every member of your team is vital to the success of your FRG. Use them, and use them well.

3. Clear mission and plan. Most of this comes from the trainings and your command. It's important to remember that you should meet with command regularly to discuss how to meet the needs of your unit's service members and families. One of the main missions for most FRG's is to be a source of information and relaying of information between command and families. A solid communication plan is needed in order to properly prepare for deployment, trainings, and to make sure that families know about available resources during emergencies and day to day military life.

4. Know the law. You have to know the law. You don't have to be like JAG or NCIS, but know what your FRG can and can't do. This is where Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) come in. Read them and know them. There are rules about fundraising, what goes in a newsletter; even issues like whether or not you can hold a bake sale. The best piece of advice: before you get too in the weeds with getting your FRG set up and planning events get very, VERY familiar with the regulations governing FRG.

5. The "Family" in Family Readiness Group is not what you think. The "Family" in Family Readiness Group can be anyone that the service member feels they want involved and knowledgeable about happenings within their unit. A "family" member could be a spouse and children, just a spouse, just children, adult children, parents, grandparents, siblings, girlfriends, boyfriends, fiancés, friends, civilians that work with the unit, veterans and others connected to the group.

6. Pass on your knowledge and use the knowledge that came before. FRG's often (but don't always) have something called a "continuity book." It's like the owner's manual for the FRG. In it you can find all of the wisdom of previous FRG Leaders. What worked, what didn't work, SOP's, important forms, contacts, resources, everything that could be useful might be in that book. And like Yoda, you too will pass down your knowledge to the next FRG leader. If you don't have a continuity book, create one. It makes the job that much easier and smooths transitions.

7. Think outside the box. The fact that you could have family members hundreds if not thousands of miles away makes it important that you "think outside the box." For those far away you can offer online coffee chat times (through google hangouts) for example. In order to connect better with service members and families create an FRG business card so you are more easily accessible. Use social media to get advice or to join groups where others can impart their wisdom.

8. Delegate responsibility. Don't go it alone. Start reaching out right away for folks to take up the other leadership roles. Once you have your team, don't be afraid to tell people exactly what you need from them, and when. If you delegate responsibility and are clear about expectations you are less likely to encounter problems.

9. Have fun. Don't forget the social aspects of the FRG. You have opportunities to bring families together for some fun – be creative with holiday parties and summer picnics. If your events are fun more families will participate.

10. Take care of yourself. It's easy to lose yourself in this job. Don't forget that while you are there to support the families, YOUR family and YOU need to be your #1 focus. If you feel yourself getting burned out, ask for help or step back from activities. Take the time to recharge. Remember it's like your grandmother said, if you don't take care of yourself you can't take care of others. Truer words were never spoken.

ICEBREAKERS

Questions for Participants

Answering questions helps start discussions and increases comfort levels between members. Questions should be general in nature and not too personal. Have participants take turns going around the room, giving their names and responses to questions like:

- What is your home state?

- How many children do you have?

- What is your favorite vegetable?

- Where did you meet your spouse?

Name Tent or Name Tag Activity

Fold sheets of construction paper into thirds, forming long tents. Have participants write their names on the front of the tents and draw their hobbies on the reverse side. Participants then walk around the room to introduce themselves and guess one another's hobbies.
There are probably other people in the room with similar interests. Another option is to use nametags. Have participants put their names and hobbies on the front of a nametag.

Who am I?

Pin the name of a famous person on the back of each group member. Have everyone ask questions requiring "yes" or "no" answers of one another for a preset amount of time. At the end of the time limit, go around the room, starting with yourself, and have everyone guess who they are. Keep the game as simple as possible by using themes—famous couples, star athletes, actors or other recognizable celebrities.

Don't Say "I"

Give each person three pennies. Ask participants to move around the room, introducing themselves to one another and asking questions that might prompt a person to say "I." If anyone does, the participant collects a penny from the person who said "I." The person with the most pennies at the end of the preset amount of time wins a small door prize.

M&M Game

Pass around a bag of small candy such as mints, Skittles, M&Ms, etc., and tell everyone to take some. After they have taken some, say, "OK, now you have to tell us something about yourself for each piece of candy in your hand."

Getting to Know You Icebreaker Activity

Write down information about yourself next to each item below. Then move around the room and find someone who matches what you wrote about yourself. Have that person sign on the line that matches what you wrote.

My birth month
Was president when I was born
My favorite drink
Number of children in my family of origin
A bad habit I have

Overcoming Your Fear of Public Speaking

Breathe. Take a few deep breaths before you begin speaking; stop and breathe between sentences.

Self Talk. Tell yourself you are not going to die; others have done this and lived. You know your material. You are good.

Visualize. Imagine yourself talking to the group. Imagine the time, place, how you will feel, and what you will say. Imagine how confident you are.

Solid Stance. Don't sway back and forth or side to side. Don't lock your knees. Relax!

Arrive Early. Allow time to be sure everything is ready, and get acquainted with the room—how it feels, smells, looks.

Greet Your Audience. Before you begin, say hello to a few people. Then you will know a few people by name and will know what interests your audience.

Food. Eat nutritional food, and avoid sugar and caffeine.

Pace Yourself. Pace yourself so your energy stays constant.

Practice. Practice your material and your non-verbal messages, such as hand movements, eye contact, and stance.

Find an "Amen Corner." Find a friendly face that you can look to for confidence, but don't lock onto that face.

Water. Have a glass of water handy; it helps with dry mouth. If you forget where you are or what you were going to say, take a quick sip to give yourself time to recover.

Don't Read Your Presentation. This will make you more nervous. Practice, practice, practice so you will need your notes only for numbers and to assist you in remembering your key points.

Practice. Practice in front of a friend; use a video camera, a tape recorder, or a mirror.

Strength from Diversity

It is important that the individuals participating in the FRG are representative of the unit's Families. For example, both officer and enlisted Families should participate. To make the FRG appealing to all families requires being aware of the diversity of the membership and recognizing the strengths that can come from having a diverse group. Think about the diverse needs, interests, talents, and other characteristics in your FRG as you answer the questions below.

1. List at least three different characteristics of your FRG membership. Beside each characteristic, write how this characteristic strengthens the group. (For example, young spouses often have many concerns during a deployment. Their concerns have led the FRG to invite guest speakers to get information of interest to many families.)

2. What strategies are needed for ALL members to feel involved in the FRG? Note: It may be necessary to use different strategies with different groups.

3. Describe a conflict in your FRG and identify how diversity contributed to the conflict. How has this conflict been resolved OR if unresolved, how can the conflict be handled?

Feedback From FRG Members

Your FRG is here to provide information, referral assistance and support to all members of the unit and their Families – both immediate and extended as well as other individuals that Soldiers have identified to us. We recognize that participation in the FRG is voluntary. However, we encourage you to participate in FRG activities or to remain connected with FRG (via telephone tree) so that helpful information and assistance can be provided to you. To help us (and the unit commander) determine how the FRG can meet your needs on an ongoing basis, we need your input and feedback. Please take a moment to address the issues of concern to you at the present time.

Assistance

1. What information or support can the FRG provide or obtain that would be helpful to you?

2. a. Some members live far away and it is important to us that we reach you. How well is the RG doing in reaching you? (For example, do you receive calls from a key caller, receive FRG newsletter, and, if available, have access to battalion's vFRG web site?)

b. How can we assist you where you live?

Participation

1. a. You (or you may know others who) would like to participate but currently do not participate. What is the reason?

b. What can we do that would help individuals and Families get involved and/or feel a part of the FRG?

2. If you have participated in the past, but currently do not. What is the reason?

3. a. If you are an active participant, what keeps you involved?

b. What does the FRG do that is important to you?

Closing

1. What, if any, other comments or suggestions would you like to make?

Thank you for taking a moment to do this. You can provide feedback at any time.

Basic Rules of Crisis Intervention

1. Listen. Let the people involved speak. Be sure you hear how they see the problem and what they expect from you. Descriptively verbalize what you hear and what you see happening; do not be critical.

2. Remember that the person who has sought your help is important, even if they are talking on behalf of someone else. Work with the person who asked for your help.

3. You are a listener, a referral agent, and perhaps a friend. You can help by listening carefully and making suggestions only when the person cannot think of alternatives. Do not give advice or assume responsibility for the person's problems or life. The goal of crisis intervention is to allow the individual involved to become responsible for themselves and the consequences of their actions. Work toward clarification of the situation.

4. Don't be over-active. The tendency is to talk a lot and offer a great deal of help in the form of possible solutions. Let the person with the problem take the lead. Often the person needs and wants to talk the problem out.

5. Be empathetic and identify feelings. Is the person depressed, frustrated, angry? Encourage the person to talk on a feeling level.

6. Try not to become absorbed with historical excuses and reasons for present problems. Focus on what is happening now, and permit the person to explore what could be done to change it.

7. When dealing with Family crises, give equal attention to each Family member, whether they are adults or children.

8. When referring someone for additional assistance, be specific. Tell them where to go, when to be there, and who to see. If possible, give them the name and number of a specific person to see.

9. Do not call others (police, rescue squad, military police, parents) without the permission of the person you are helping unless there is imminent danger—suicide or homicide. It is permissible to ask them if they are in danger or to ask them if they are thinking about suicide and have the means to carry it out. If you must notify the unit or rear detachment, tell them you are going to do so.

10. Provide reassurance that the person will be able to solve the problem.

11. People's trust in you must be developed and maintained. This trust is earned by acting responsibly and confidentially.

Communication Guidelines

COMMUNICATING WITH FAMILIES

Everyone assigned to the unit is automatically considered a member of the FRG. The FRG's roster of all Family members (immediate and extended) and other individuals identified by Soldiers is put together based on information provided by command, Soldiers and Families. Multiple sources are used to develop the roster including unit roster from command, Family Readiness Information forms completed by Soldiers and collected by command, and requests to Soldiers and Family members to provide Family contact information. Once a complete FRG roster is developed, it is maintained and kept with the FRG leader and Key Contact Coordinator. Each key contact will be given a small group of Families (approx. 10) on the roster to contact. Keep in mind that participation is voluntary. Therefore, some Families may choose not to be listed on the roster and/or may state that they do not wish to be called. Do not take this as personal rejection. However, note this on your list and notify the FRG leader. The FRG roster is the primary means by which the FRG (acting on behalf of the unit) communicates official information with all unit Families. Timeliness and accuracy are critically important. The core group of that makes contact with the FRG members are the Key Contacts. Having an accurate, current unit Family roster is essential to setting up and maintaining FRG phone tree.

Privacy Act of 1974

The Privacy Act of 1974 limits access to personal information that Soldiers provide to their command. The information the command provides must be relevant and necessary to accomplish the mission. Key Contacts may receive some of this personal information protected by the Privacy Act because they are command appointed representatives who need this information to perform their duties.

Professional Privacy Issues

The FRG has an obligation not to divulge personal information shared by unit families. Safeguarding private, sensitive information shows respect for a family's privacy and protects the credibility and integrity of the Family Readiness Group.

Confidentiality

Confidentiality plays an important part in the FRG. You must be able to guarantee any person who contacts you the freedom to discuss matters in a private and safe environment. It is your duty and obligation to keep each conversation and the personal matters discussed during such interactions in strictest confidence, with the exception of dangerous or life-threatening situations. In practice this means:

- Do not disclose the names or details in any way that may identify someone to others.
- Do not use personal information or a situation when contacting a resource or making a referral without specific approval from the individual.
- Protect contact information sheets, and destroy them when they are no longer needed.
- If a person begins to discuss something with you that lies outside the area of confidentiality (e.g., suicide, child abuse, neglect, sexual abuse, assault, any other criminal activity), inform them that you will be obligated to report the call and its nature to the appropriate authorities.

- Remember, you are not responsible for finding a solution to people's problems – it is your job to know which military or community agency to refer them to for the assistance they need.
- Have a clear understanding of what situations the command expects to be reported.

Disclosing Information

A Key Contact _can_ disclose information about Soldiers and their families _only_ to the Chain of Command and FRG Leader except in situations where mandatory reporting is required (for rules on mandatory reporting, see below). If contacted by outside agencies, the Key Contact will refer them to the FRG Leader without discussing information related to individual cases.

In addition, FRG volunteers are prohibited from divulging phone numbers and addresses of families to include unit families. Information will not be used for personal gain. For example, the roster cannot be used as a source of potential clients for a business.

Remember: Failing to protect private information is grounds for immediate dismissal

Below are some guidelines for handling information:

- Do not disclose someone's name or personal information without specific, unless required by law or regulation.
- Do not repeat general information without permission. General information may include number of children, housing area, home address, work section, type of vehicle, etc.
- Protect any written notes.
- Protect everyone's privacy. Do not use an individual's name when checking on the availability of a resource. If someone starts discussing issues that require disclosure, state that FRG volunteers are mandated reporters.
- Remember that families aren't bound by privacy act/disclosure rules. Be careful about sharing your personal information in order to show empathy!

Mandatory Reporting

Although protecting sensitive information is one of the most critical components of a volunteer's job, there are times when sensitive information must be shared with the Chain of Command. These situations include, but are not limited to:

- A serious crime (examples: drug activity, black marketing, etc.)
- Spouse or Child abuse or neglect
- Drug abuse
- Potential danger to self (example: suicide) or others (example: homicide)
- Expectation of media coverage regarding a family issue
- Issues deemed to be mission security risks

Information and Referral Services

FRG Volunteers are a conduit for installation and community information and programs that help families deal with challenges of military life. Some methods to remain current:

- Be Informed - Stay tuned to news outlets (military newspaper, unit and installation Facebook pages, Family Program's Facebook page, state newsletters, military websites)
- Participate in town hall meetings, commander's calls and other venues for learning about community events and issues
- Network—when utilizing installation, unit and community agencies; ask about services that benefit family members
- Learn—if you hear of a challenge someone went through, find out what ultimately resolved the situation and make a mental note
- Supplement your resource guide with community calendars, flyers about on- and off-post special interest programs or events, email and share information with others for widest dissemination and benefit to all families.

Getting Information to Spouses and Family Members

The first step covered in providing information and referral services is gathering information about resources. The second step is to get that information out to the spouses and families who need it. FRG volunteers use resource information in response to most routine calls. According to the National Military Family Association (NMFA), surveys of military spouses consistently reveal spouses common concerns:

- Loneliness/Isolation
- Making decision alone
- Guiding/educating children
- Adequate social outlets
- Financial responsibilities
- Feeling spouse's unit is unconcerned
- Lack of information or communication from spouse's unit

Communication Checklist

✓ Write down the message you have before you call so it will be concise and clear.

✓ If emailing, check for grammar and spelling errors before sending the email.

✓ Have your Communication Log nearby.

✓ Make contacts in a timely manner, keep trying to call if unsuccessful on the first attempt.

✓ Specify what hours are reasonable for accepting and making phone calls.

✓ Verify phone number and address occasionally to ensure FRG roster is correct.

✓ Try to answer questions as best you can; if you cannot, find a source to answer the question and call back with the information.

✓ Call your FRG leader when you have completed your calls.

✓ Keep your FRG leader informed of disconnected or unanswered calls and emails.

SERVING AS A COMMUNICATION LINK

The flow of information goes both ways. Spouse concerns and questions are relayed through the Key Contact up the chain of communication, while the Commander, First Sergeant and FRL disseminates unit news and other information back to the families through the assigned Key Contact. This communication link becomes particularly important during strategic and operational changes in the deployment mission or other contingencies at home.

IMPORTANT:

Depending on the contingency and at the Installation Commander's discretion, Army Community Service or the State Family Readiness Office will activate an Emergency Family Assistance Center (EFAC). The EFAC is a family support system that allows agencies to respond collectively to wartime contingencies and peacetime emergencies to ensure personnel and their families receive effective support.

Strategic and Operational Events

The Army lifestyle is punctuated by separations due to deployments, mobilizations, TDYs, training exercises or crisis situations. Whether family separations are planned or unexpected, the Key Contact assists Families by keeping the lines of communication open and providing assistance in finding resource information.

Passing on Official Information

The Key Contact must always write down the message verbatim and repeat it exactly the same way to every person on the contact list. It's important to repeat the message verbatim, because the original message becomes more distorted and less clear with each additional comment. Remember the Key Contact is a representative of the unit and every additional comment becomes part of the "official" message. Here are some other tips:

- Don't speculate about the content of the message
- Don't add your perspective, opinions, or information from another source
- Due to the immediacy of disseminating information, ask spouses to defer questions until you have made all the calls or call a pre-established agency of approved information. Offer to call back later.

Dealing with Rumors - Suggested strategies to combat rumors:

- Correct the information, if you can.
- Urge families to question the reliability of "unofficial information".
- Encourage Families not to pass on rumors. Pass official information only.
- Contact the chain of command for help in dispelling rumors.

Informing the Commander about Family Concerns

In addition to assisting families during various operational events, the Key Contact also has a duty to provide the unit with feedback. Units often want to know about spouse concerns and trends that affect readiness. Information about the types and number of calls gives the command team a "big picture" snapshot.

SUPPORTING FAMILIES DURING DEPLOYMENT

The Key Contact Program plays an important role in helping spouses prepare for deployment. Key Contacts may be asked to support pre-deployment briefings and other family pre-separation activities and events. During deployments, Key Contacts assist by keeping families informed, as directed by the unit. If individuals know what to expect, and come up with a plan for taking care of the household and themselves, families are better prepared to handle emotions that often accompany a deployment.

Stages of Deployment

Pre-Deployment - Prior to deployment, spouses will feel anticipation. This generally occurs 4 to 6 weeks before the member deploys. The remaining spouse feels tense, selfish, and guilty about not wanting the member to go. There is also frustration because the member is putting in extra hours to get the unit ready to deploy, while so much needs to be done to prepare the household for the separation. Both the member and the spouse are physically and mentally exhausted. There may be unacknowledged anger about the situation which can trigger depression or physical problems. Spouses may become more distant and they may stop sharing their thoughts and feelings. Feelings of disorganization and sadness are common. Children may react by withdrawing or misbehaving.

Deployment - Most people are in this stage for the majority of the separation. It is characterized by relative calm. Once the separation occurs, a sense of emptiness sets in. Old routines are gone. Spouses will begin to feel confident that they can handle their daily affairs. However, if a contingency occurs, people can be thrown back into states of withdrawal and depression.

Reintegration - This last stage can be the most difficult. Getting the house and family ready for the member's return often exhausts the spouse. Members are also exhausted and excited by their return and spend a lot of time sleeping, which can be frustrating to the spouse. Both the Family and the Soldier are happy to be reunited, but they have to work out accumulated tensions and reestablish the rules for living together.

The Key Contact can use these stages to assure spouses that their responses and feelings are normal, given the situation. These general stages can also be useful in spotting a problem. They are a norm against which behavior can be measured. Someone whose reactions appear extreme, when measured against these stages, may need a referral.

> "There are four ways, and only four ways, in which we have contact with the world. We are evaluated and classified by these four contacts: what we do, how we look, what we say and how we say it."

Telephone Guidelines

Increasing FRG Participation through Effective Communication

One way to attract potential Family Readiness Group members is by making personal phone calls. Identify volunteers who are willing to call 10 to 12 other FRG members. Provide them with a list of individuals to call and a written message to be relayed. Below is a sample message:

Sample Scripts

Introduction Phone Call:

"Hello, _____, this is _____. I just wanted to call to let you know that I am your contact person for the [unit name] Family Readiness Group. Your spouse works with mine and I'm the person you can call if you have any concerns or questions. I'll contact you from time to time regarding meetings and events or when any information needs to be passed on. If you need anything, have any questions, or want to become involved in our unit's FRG, my phone number is _____. Please feel free to call or email me at _____ if that is easier for you."

Information Call:

"Hi _____. This is _____. I am your Key Contact from [unit name] Family Readiness Group. Is this a good time to pass on some information?

       Answers: Yes? Continue.

                      No? "When would be a better time for me to call?"

Do you have a paper and pen handy? If not, I can wait until you find one."

Meeting Call:

"The FRG is having a bake sale [fundraiser, meeting, etc.] to raise money for_____on [day, date] from [start time to end time] at [location].

Could you bake something to bring?

Would you have time to work at the bake sale from _____ to _____?

Do you know where [location] is? I'll be happy to give you directions.

I'm really glad we can count on you to help out by [bake, work, etc.].

Your help is really appreciated.

Thanks.

See you at the Bake Sale!"

Receiving a Call

The ultimate compliment you can pay another person is "being-in-the-present" while interacting over the phone or in person. To facilitate this connection, remove as many distractions as possible. This enables you to really listen. Below are five steps in handling routine calls:

Greeting - Greet families in a genuinely upbeat, positive manner. Note, 90% of calls are initiated by the Key Contact.

Record Keeping - Request identifying information and record on Contact Log.

Nature of the Call -

> Identify the need or problem - If a call is received, to begin to identify the caller's need, use a phrase like "How can I assist you?" or "What can I do for you today?" to lead the caller into discussing the reason for the call. Good listening skills really come into play when trying to figure out why someone is calling. Tips for good listening include:
>
> • Focus on what the person is saying or perhaps not saying
>
> • Listen to the voice intonation and, if in person, pay attention to their nonverbal communication
> • Be nonjudgmental
> • Show empathy (example: "I understand that you're frustrated because _____ is happening")

• Ask questions to clarify what the caller is saying

• Paraphrase what the caller said to check your understanding of what he or she needs

Take action - Once you understand the situation, take action by making the referral.

• Determine if the caller has already contacted another agency

• Explain the agency or service, any documents the agency or service needs, and what will happen once the person makes contact (too many referrals may be confusing)

• Don't be afraid to take time to think about a referral. It's permissible to tell the caller that you'll do some research and call back, unless the safety of an individual is at stake.

• Make sure the caller knows what to do next. Follow up to insure resolution or provide more assistance. Ask the caller if he or she has any questions. Confirm the caller has the correct information and understands the next steps to be taken. Never make specific promises regarding an agency's services.

Closing - Provide an "open door" policy for families to call. One may need to be cautious with repeat callers. If a spouse or family member seems to be calling on a regular basis (ie; daily, weekly) refer the caller to your chain of command. You may close by saying, "Call me if you need anything else." If you need to follow up, let the caller know when to expect your call.

Follow Up as Needed - The Key Contact may want to follow up in a few days to see if the caller was able to get the service or if another referral is needed.

ROUTINE CALLS

Information Calls - Information calls are the most common type of routine call. Callers will usually have questions about types of services available in the community, through the National Guard or on post, hours of operation, address/location, etc… For example, a spouse may call with a question about Army Community Service, financial assistance, or a local National Guard Family Assistance Center (FAC).

IMPORTANT: If you don't know the correct answer to a question--say so. Don't guess! Follow up soon after with accurate information.

Complaint/Grievance Calls - In this type of call, someone generally complains about a service. People may call the Key Contact because they've already tried normal channels with little success. The Key Contact can work with that person through the chain of command and/or installation agencies to resolve the problem.

Recurring Calls - Spouses may call repeatedly because they are lonely or have something they want to complain about. Some common calls are problems with children and missing their geographically separated spouse. The Key Contact may need to be firm, but kind, when handling these calls. A suggestion is to politely inform the caller there is a routine time limit (i.e., five minutes) to phone calls to protect the Key Contact's family time. If the problem appears to be loneliness, an option is to arrange for another spouse in the unit to act as a "phone buddy." Do not hesitate to refer them to the chain of command for follow-up.

Service Request Calls - Service request calls are, "I need a babysitter" or "I need a ride to the doctor's office." Although emergencies do happen, these are generally not the kind of services the Key Contact provides.

Whatever the type of call, it's important for the Key Contact to understand why the person is calling and what kind of referral is needed.

Crisis Intervention

Not all calls will be routine. Other types of calls are:

- Crisis (personal or family)
- Emergency (life-threatening)
- Suicide (threats of personal harm)

The Key Contact is not a trained counselor! The goal in these calls is to make the appropriate referral as quickly as possible. Based on the situation, immediately contact emergency services, 911 and then notify the Unit Commander, First Sergeant, or FRL. Maintain contact with the individual until help arrives. Check with leadership on appropriateness of follow-up.

Crisis Calls

A person may call for several reasons, including:

- Unit accident with fatalities
- Chronic illness
- Marital and Family distress

- Financial difficulties
- Miscarriage
- Loss of Family Member

People describe a crisis differently! For example; to some, a dead car battery is a crisis. For you that situation may a hassle or a headache, but not a crisis. Keep in mind the caller may be overwhelmed by emotion. The caller may experience a range of feelings:

- Anger – a common emotion which may be expressed overtly or covertly. The anger is normally directed at another, turned inward and, if not resolved, may result in depression.
- Helplessness – manifests itself when an individual feels unable to cope or has nowhere to turn.
- Anxiety – a combination of worry and uncertainty. Anxiety is a normal response to challenging situations, but when it gets out of hand, anxiety can lead to confusion, poor judgment, questionable decisions, and self-defeating behaviors. It can immobilize a person.
- Lowered self-esteem – the person doesn't feel competent to respond appropriately.

Listen. Let the people involved speak. Be sure that you hear how they see the problem and what they expect from you. Descriptively verbalize what you hear and what you see happening; do not be critical.

Remember that the person who sought your help is important, even if they are talking on behalf of someone else.

Work with the person that has asked you for help.

You are a listener, a referral agent, and perhaps a friend. You can help by listening carefully and making suggestions only when the person cannot think of alternatives. Do not give advice or assume responsibility for the person's problems or life. The goal of crisis intervention is to allow the individual involved to become responsible for themselves and the consequences of their actions. Work toward clarification of the situation.

Don't be over-active. The tendency is to talk a lot and offer a great deal of help in the form of possible solutions. Try not to become absorbed with historical excuses and reasons for present problems. Focus on what is happening now, and permit the person to explore what could be done to change it.

Let the person with the problem take the lead. Often the person wants and needs to talk the problem out.

Be empathetic and identify feelings. Is the person depressed, frustrated, angry? Encourage the person to talk on a feeling level. If caller is overwhelmed by emotions, advise that these feelings are normal when facing challenging events. Be sure to gauge caller's emotional state. Make a referral immediately. Allow unit leadership and other professionals decide intervention referral services.

When dealing with Family crises, give equal attention to each Family member, whether they are adults or children.

When referring someone for additional assistance, be specific. Tell them where to go, when to be there, and who to see. If possible, give them a name and number of a specific person to see. Follow-up to be sure that the necessary service was provided.

Remember also that the concept of crisis is relative. One person's crisis may be an ordinary event to someone else. Maintain your objectivity and do not over-identify with the caller. The Key Contact is not responsible for another person's crisis or individual's refusal to take action.

Emergency Calls

An emergency call is often a life-and-death situation involving a serious or terminal illness, injury, or death. Immediately contact emergency services (e.g., 911, MPs, etc.,) and then notify the Unit Commander, First Sergeant or FRL. The Key Contact needs to be sensitive to feelings involved and facts of the situation. Remain positive and assure the caller of immediate and competent assistance. The referral should be very specific.

Suicide Calls

Tips for handling emergency calls also apply to suicide calls. In each of these calls, the Key Contact has mandatory reporting obligations. Take immediate action to inform the appropriate authority. Contact established emergency response numbers.

Other contingency intervention tips are:

- Always take the threat of suicide seriously
- Don't make promises that everything will be all right
- Get the person's name, location, and phone number in case he or she hangs up
- Get help. Try to keep the caller on the phone while someone else calls the police. If another person is in the house with you, give him or her a note to phone for help.

Communication Tips

- Be compassionate and show genuine concern. Communicate empathy, not sympathy.
- Be comfortable with individual's anger and intense emotions. It is an appropriate response to stress.
- Listen patiently and nonjudgmental. Allow individuals to talk about and vent their feelings.
- Be patient. Resiliency is a process that takes time.
- Allow for diversity in how people respond and cope. Accept reactions as normal.
- Let people grieve in their own way; however refer to clergy, counseling service, mental health agency, or support group when grieving becomes unhealthy.
- Respect religious and cultural beliefs.
- As non-mental health professionals, do not attempt to diagnose.
- Help Families strengthen problem-solving (e.g., how to seek information and help from others) and decision-making skills.
- Provide information on warning signs and available resources.
- Connect Families to other people.
- Encourage Families to participate in projects that help others.
- Do not provide same intervention to all, but tailor to needs. Keep in mind that those who are resilient may not need intervention.
- Breathe

Email Guidelines

E-mail is a great way for Family Readiness Groups to communicate quickly with members. It is an alternative system to weekly phone calls. Participation for must be voluntary. E-mail can be used very similar to the FRG phone tree depending on each individuals preferred method for communication to notify group members of upcoming meetings and social events. Members of the FRG may not e-mail for their own financial benefit such as for sales or solicitations.

TIPS FOR EFFECTIVE FRG EMAIL COMMUNICATION

- Put recipients in the "BCC:" field so that they remain anonymous
- Use a meaningful and relevant "Subject" line that reflects the content of the message
- Be concise and to the point
- Respond and forward on information swiftly – Especially when information is time sensitive
- Answer all questions, and pre-empt further questions
- Use proper spelling, grammar and punctuation
- Do not write in CAPITALS
- Do not use email to discuss confidential information about Soldiers and Family members
- When forwarding an email, unless stated, remove the personal information from the original author and any other information that is not relevant to your audience. This will help to personalize the email
- Try to quote from the original message when relevant. You can break the quoted message down into paragraphs and comment on them individually to make it clearer
- When using an acronym for the first time spell it out i.e. Family Readiness Group (FRG).
- Only use acronyms if you are positive the recipient is familiar with their meaning.
- Use emphasis where it is useful to do so. If your email system does not allow bold or italics, a common convention is to use a star on either side of the word you want to stress
- If attaching a document, first convert it to a PDF format, as everyone can open this type of document. In the body of the email explain any attachments
- Be careful when replying to mailing list messages, or to messages sent to many recipients. Are you sure you want to reply to the whole list?
- Proof read the email before pressing send
- Include a brief signature on your email messages to help the recipient understand who it is from, especially if you are dealing with someone you do not know very well
- Military Etiquette – When emailing Command sign your email with "Very Respectfully"
- Always be polite. Terseness can be misinterpreted.
- Be patient, especially with inexperienced email users. Give people the benefit of the doubt. While you are familiar with email etiquette, it doesn't mean that they are.

Text Messaging Guidelines

Text messaging has become a common means of daily communication and is a great alternative to phone calls within the FRG depending on individual preferences. Participation for must be voluntary and may be used very similar to the FRG phone tree. Text messaging should be used very cautiously and is not for every situation.

- Text messaging should not be used in place of a detailed e-mail or phone call.
- Do not use group messaging. This way all recipients remain anonymous.
- Be concise and to the point
- Be sure to send messages only at appropriate times of day. Do not send messages in the middle of the night. Set boundaries on hours you will reply to messages.
- Do not discuss confidential information about Soldiers and Family members, provide bad news or OPSEC information in a message.
- Respond and forward on information swiftly – Especially when information is time sensitive. Do not wait until the last minute to send a message.
- Use proper spelling, grammar and punctuation. Double check spelling when using the voice-to-text feature.
- Do not write in CAPITALS
- Do not reply to a message with one word.
- Only use acronyms/ abbreviations if you are positive the recipient is familiar with their meaning.
- Not all abbreviations are appropriate for official information. Examples to not use, "LOL", "BTW", "CU", "NRN".
- Do not use emoji's.
- Be sure that the recipient knows who the message is coming from, especially if you are dealing with someone you do not know very well.
- Always be polite. Terseness can be misinterpreted.
- Be patient, especially with inexperienced users. Give people the benefit of the doubt. While you are familiar with text messaging etiquette, it doesn't mean that they are.

Newsletters Guidelines

Getting Started (Excerpts from USAR 608-1)

Newsletter content is official when it is educational, promotes unit cohesion and is related to the unit mission, Family programs, and Family and unit readiness. Be sure to include something for everyone: Soldiers, Retirees, and all Family members including parents and youth. Think of what a single Soldier might want to read in addition to a married Soldier with children.

Commanders are responsible for determining the type of information their Soldiers and Families need to know. Use the following guidelines to determine whether the content of FRG newsletters is official:

(1) Information related to unit mission and readiness, including Family Readiness, such as information related to FRG activities in support of annual training, pre-mobilization briefings, deployments, and welcome home and reunion ceremonies.

(2) Information that is educational in nature, designed to promote informed mission-ready Soldiers and resilient Families.

(3) Chaplain-sponsored programs and activities, such as Strong Bonds events.

(4) Education and training programs.

(5) Information on local civilian social service agencies that provide various services.

(6) Contacts for veterans' service organizations that offer guidance and support.

(7) Information regarding activities for Soldiers and Families that promotes unit cohesion and helps strengthen the ongoing esprit de corps among Family members and the unit, such as Family Day activities.

Newsletter subjects.

- Commander/First Sergeant's Column.
- Deployment cycle issues.
- Volunteer information, accomplishments, opportunities, recognition and training.
- Family Sponsorship, New Family Orientation, Telephone/E-mail Chain and Family Day activities.
- Space Available Travel, Army Family Action Plan, Army Family Team Building and FRG Training.
- Advertise Family Programs.
- Each newsletter should solicit items for the next newsletter. Remember to give credit to the author by referencing sources.
- Army and Air Force Exchange Service (AAFES), Commissary, benefits and entitlements, common acronyms, Family Care Plans, emergency phone numbers, activity pages for children, unit history, mission, and hails and farewells.
- Other resources such as the Chaplain, Child Care, and Youth Activities

Designing the Newsletter

Heading. The heading will contain the name or title of the newsletter indicating the contents and purpose, name and address of the activity, issue number (issues are numbered consecutively on a calendar or fiscal year series) and the date of publication. Decorative headings are authorized if printed in the same color of ink used for the text. Headings should capture the interest of readers and should be limited to not more than 7 words.

Content and Format.

- The content must be official and may be directive, instructional or administrative in nature.
- No information that conflicts with policies, procedures or position of the Department of the Army will be used.
- Avoid religion, politics, and any other subjects that may cause controversy. Keep articles short.
- Every newsletter should be consistently formatted with clearly defined sections that are well presented.
- The FRG newsletter must be typed and proofread for spelling and grammar. The preferred method for e-mail is as a Word document.
- Use action words.
- Information on fundraising, other than those of the unit's FRG, is also prohibited. For example, if the FRG has discount coupons to a park such as Disney World, the name "Disney" cannot be advertised; but it can state that coupons are available to a major theme park.
- It is suggested that the last page of the newsletter be used as a mailing page as this eliminates the need for envelopes. To accomplish this, the top half of the last (back) page should contain any repetitive information that is routinely published, such as FRG volunteers, unit personnel and the distribution listing. The lower half of this page should read as follows: On the left margin just below the center of the page, type the name of the FRG, the unit and the unit's mailing address followed by the words, "Official Business" in bold letters, only if the newsletter qualifies to be sent using appropriated funding. In the center of the lower half of the page, mark a space for the mailing label.

Authentication. The commander or FRL will authenticate newsletters prior to publication. Content must be official and have the commander's signature block.

Printing and Distribution. Recommend using the e-mail tree for distribution of newsletters and other informational materials. When printing the newsletter, it will be in only one color ink and printed on paper stock (any color). Colored paper stands out and is more likely to be read. Always forward an electronic copy to the servicing Family Programs Office.

Mailing List. Information from the Family Information Data Sheet, USAR Form 107-R, should be used to establish a mailing list. The newsletter will be distributed via mail or e-mail as determined by the subscriber's wishes. Regular contact with the FRSA and FRL will also provide updates for the mailing list. Until the name of the Family member designated to receive FRG information is obtained, address newsletters as follows: to "the Family of SPC Joe Soldier."

Newsletter subjects.

- Commander/First Sergeant's Column.
- Deployment cycle issues.
- Volunteer information, accomplishments, opportunities, recognition and training.
- Family Sponsorship, New Family Orientation, Telephone/E-mail Chain and Family Day activities.
- Space Available Travel, Army Family Action Plan, Army Family Team Building and FRG REAL Training.
- Advertise Family Programs.
- Each newsletter should solicit items for the next newsletter. Remember to give credit to the author by referencing sources.

Editing
When materials have been gathered for the coming edition, it's time for the newsletter committee to decide what will be included. The selected feature articles, together with photos, artwork, and captions, are ready to go to the talented and experienced editorial staff for careful reading and editing. They will examine each article for readability, substance, organization, style, and correctness. They will also correct any problems with scope, development, coherence, tone, voice, grammar, spelling, and punctuation. When they are finished, produce a clean copy, proofread, and then start laying out the newsletter.

Copyright Laws
The newsletter committee needs to be aware of current copyright laws. Be careful when quoting from published works. Copyright law protects original material such as books and novels, poetry, recorded music, sheet music, photographs, and anything that exists as a tangible medium.. Printing any portion of an author's published or unpublished work is a copyright infringement and subject to lawsuit. Permission to quote from any of the above named items requires permission from the author. Simply giving the author credit does not protect you from copyright infringement.
Some material falls into the category of public domain, for example, facts discovered in the course of research. You are free to use this kind of information as long as you express it in your own words.
Under the fair use rule of copyright law, you may make limited use of someone's work without getting permission. This includes excerpting from a work to use in a review or criticism, summarizing an article with short quotes in a news report, and limited photocopying for non-profit education purposes. For more information, check the Law for All website at: www.nolo.com.

Proofreading, Illustrations, Final Copy, and Paste ups
Once satisfied with the layout, the editors should proofread the newsletter again, correct any remaining errors (mostly cosmetic), and complete the newsletter. Also, scan and place photographs and graphics, and make sure the captions are in the correct locations, with the correct fonts. After another proofreading or two, consider any paste ups needed; some items may not scan well, so you may have to crop (trim) and paste them on the sheets with a glue stick. Make a few clean photocopies of the complete newsletter and take a copy to the FRG leader and commander for a final look. Any last changes should be purely cosmetic.

At this point, the manuscript is in camera-ready form. The newsletter chairperson and one or two editors should perform a final check of the layout, fonts, alignment, continuations, illustrations, captions, etc. Finally, read through the newsletter again to be sure it is free of errors.
The original copy of the newsletter can then go to the commander for a last look and signature on the last page.

Publishing the Newsletter
The policy for reproduction of newsletters varies from installation to installation. FRGs need to research local requirements. Reserve FRGs should follow the guidelines in USARC Regulation 608-1.

Distributing the Finished Newsletter
When the print job is complete, the newsletter committee will need to fold the copies and affix mailing labels. Computer-generated labels for the FRG members will save time and effort. Consider emailing the newsletter to help reduce the cost of mailing!

Electronic Distribution of the Newsletter
Many families have internet service and with new technology has come the opportunity to offer the newsletters over e-mail in a file format referred to as a Portable Document File (PDF). The capability to convert the completed newsletter to PDF is a standard feature in many of the newer software publishing and word-processing programs.

When using electronic distribution lists always send using the"bcc" line.

Social Media and FRGs

Social Media Platforms

The Army has developed specific guidelines for the use of social media; FRGs are required to follow these guidelines. All information presented here can be found the Army Social Media Handbook, 2016.

Social media includes social networks, online communities, blogs, wikis and other online collaborative media. The Army identifies the following platforms as social media:

- Facebook
- Twitter
- Flickr
- YouTube
- Google
- Blogs
- Pinterest
- Slideshare

Any social media platform used by FRGs must follow DA policies

The Army recognizes that social media is a large part of the virtual landscape and that it offers an opportunity to connect with Soldiers, Civilians and their Families in a way never before realized. For many FRGs they have become a large part of how leadership communicates with the FRG membership and keeps them informed. As the Army's social media presence has grown so has a need for Department of Army policies. Whether you realize it or not there are 100s if not 1000s of social media platforms that are considered Social Media.

Many platforms have different usage purposes. People are sharing, blogging, discussing, networking, gaming and publishing in the social media world. When leveraged properly they can be a great asset to an FRG, but the FRG needs to have a plan and strategy for how they will use the platforms available to them to have the greatest impact on their membership.

Social Media and the FRG Mission

The main mission of the FRG is to keep FRG members informed – social media has the capability to do this in a limited capacity.

Social Media CAN support:

- Orienting Families to the community

- Providing updates on community and social events

- Keeping Families connected

- Providing information on community resources

- Command messages on safety and generic topics

Social Media can NOT support

- Information on unit mission

- Information on deployments

- Personal Identifying Information

- Command messages on specific unit activities

- At Risk Family support

Army Social Media Policy

- Obtain command approval

- Categorize as a government page

- Branding across all social media platforms

- Acknowledgement of "official page"

- Must be updated regularly

- Contact information with military e-mail

- Must include posting guidelines

- Administrative training

- Registered through the US Army

Getting Started

❑ Develop a social media outreach plan

❑ Make sure you understand Army social media policies:

www.slideshare.net/usarmysocialmedia

❑ Review other Army social media sites

❑ Identify who will be the site administrator(s)

❑ Develop standard operating procedures

❑ Develop a posting policy that is shared on the page

❑ Set up the site

❑ Register the site – www.army.mil/socialmedia

❑ Maintain the site – Post a minimum of every 30 days

Required Training

✓ OPSEC for EOP Operators: https://iatraining.us.army.mil/

✓ DISA Social Networking:
http://iase.disa.mil/eta/sns_v1/sn/launchPage.htm

Social Media and Operational Security (OPSEC)

Maintaining operational security on social media is critical to ensuring Soldier safety and mission assurance. As well, personal security needs to be considered. Site administrators are responsible for ensuring that all posted items on the social media site do not violate OPSEC or PERSEC. When a page allows for users to comment it can be a great way to network and share information, but it can also be a security risk. Information shared on social media sites should be information that is already known to the public. Consider posting meeting locations on a secured site such as vFRG and providing the link rather than broadcasting this information on unsecured sites.

Operations security should ALWAYS be the primary concern when using social media

Communicate to users that posting sensitive information can be detrimental to Soldier safety

Monitor site for OPSEC regularly

Ensure information posted has no significant value to the enemy

Do not speculate on future missions

Authorized Postings

Authorized social media postings are to be information in nature as well as somewhat generic. It is important to remember that the enemy is able to piece together information gathered from various sites. The rule of thumb is if you wouldn't post it in your yard don't post it on social media.

- ✓ Pride and support for service, units, specialties and service member
- ✓ Generalizations about service or duty
- ✓ General status of the location of a unit
- ✓ Any other information already in the public domain from credible sources

Social Media by the Generation

Millennials

- Digital Natives
- 89% usage rate
- 75% Facebook
- 37% Twitter
- Self-Promotion
- Networking
- Anxiety
- Interface real and virtual

Generation X

- Digital Adapters
- 78% usage rate
- 63% Facebook
- 25% Twitter
- Social
- Research
- Pleasure
- Connect real and virtual

Baby Boomers

- Digital Immigrants
- 60% usage rate
- 40% Facebook
- 12% Twitter
- Family
- Connectedness
- Nostalgia
- Separate real and virtual

It is important to understand generational difference when it comes to the use of social media.

Right now the Army has millennials, generation X, and Baby Boomers in its ranks. Each generation comes with a different set of skills and ways they use technology. While millenials are digital natives, having grown up always knowing technology, baby boomers are considered digital immigrants, who have to learn the rules and ways of social media in order to use it effectively and be technologically savvy.

All generations have a presence on social media, but even the millennials do not have a 100% usage rate on the most popular social media site, Facebook. This means that social media cannot be the only form of communication or outreach that an FRG does for its membership – traditional forms of communication including telephonic and letters are still needed, accepted, and appreciated.

While more millenials are on twitter, the most tweets come from baby boomers. Generation X uses twitter as a way to remain informed about events while baby boomers have complete conversations on twitter. Millennials are using twitter as a form of self-promotion, which is how they utilize most social media. Millennials are more likely to have a broad network of both people they know in real life as well as those they have only connected with virtually. They are more likely to go to their social network to get questions answered than any other generation. Generation X uses social media to be social with friends and family, they will use social media as a starting point for more in depth research, but will turn to more traditional tools, such as research journals, media outlets etc. to get questions answered. Baby boomers, on the other hand are using social media to be connected to family, in particular children and grandchildren who may not live nearby.

Millennials indicate that social media and the constant connectedness creates anxiety – they are afraid if they aren't constantly checking their various accounts that they will miss something, while generation X indicates that social media is pleasurable and baby boomers find it nostalgic as they connect with old friends and post throw back pictures.

Ultimately, millennials are able to interface their real world with their virtual world – to them there is no difference – the virtual allows more people to be involved and interact with one another and they can move seamlessly between to the two. Generation X uses social media to connect to their real world friends and family while they are apart, but the two are not completely interfaced, while baby boomers continue to have a separate real world and virtual life – they do not feel the need to post everything they do, check in, or live stream to feel connected.

Facebook Smart Card

Social Networks - Do's and Don'ts

- Only establish and maintain connections with people you know and trust. Review your connections often.
- Assume that ANYONE can see any information about your activities, personal life, or professional life that you post and share.
- Ensure that your family takes similar precautions with their accounts; their privacy and sharing settings can expose your personal data.
- Use caution when posting images of you or your family. Be aware of your surroundings, to include identifiable locations, military affiliations, and any other personal security vulnerabilities. It's highly discouraged to use geo-location tags.
- Use secure browser settings when possible and monitor your browsing history to ensure that you recognize all access points.

Personal safety tips
✓ Assume that ANYONE can see any information about your activities, personal life, or professional life that you post and share.
✓ Ensure that your family takes similar precautions with their accounts; their privacy and sharing settings can expose your personal data.
✓ Use caution when posting images of you or your family. Be aware of your surroundings, to include identifiable locations, military affiliations, and any other personal security vulnerabilities.
✓ It's highly discouraged to use geo-location tags.
✓ Use secure browser settings when possible and monitor your browsing history to ensure that you recognize all access points.

Security tips
Here are 5 things you can do to help keep your account safe:
✓ Pick a strong password. Use a combination of at least six numbers, letters and punctuation marks (like ! and &).
✓ Make sure your email account is secure.
✓ Log out of Instagram when you use a computer or phone you share with other people.
✓ Think before you authorize any third-party app.
✓ Never give up your password to someone you don't know and trust.

Privacy and safety tips
Decide whether you want to use your 'Photo Map'.
Block if necessary
When people use Instagram's blocking feature, the person they block cannot view their posts or search for their Instagram account.

Make your posts private
You can make your posts private in the Instagram app so only approved followers can see them.
Things to keep in mind about private posts:
✓ Private posts you share to social networks may be visible to the public depending on your privacy settings for that network. For example, a post you share to Twitter that was set to private on Instagram may be visible to the people who can see your Twitter posts.
✓ Once you make your posts private, people will have to send you a follow request if they want to see your posts, your followers list or your following list.
✓ You'll see requests in Activity, which you can then approve or ignore.
✓ People can send a photo or video directly to you even if they're not following you.

Remember
✓ Your media represents you. That probably seems obvious, but remember it can keep on representing you well into the future, because content posted online or with phones is pretty impossible to take back. So it's a good idea to think about how what you post now will reflect on you down the line. If you think it might hurt a job prospect, damage a relationship or upset your grandmother, consider not sharing it.
✓ Your media could show up anywhere. Even if you limit the audience, be careful not to share anything that could be a problem if someone were to pass it around. Once it's on the internet, it's there forever!

Managing your Twitter Account

Twitter is a social networking and microblogging site whose users send and read text-based posts online. The site surged to worldwide popularity with +300 million active users as of 2011, generating 300 million tweets and 1.6 billion search queries daily.

Tweets

"Tweets" are short text-based messages – up to 140 characters – that users post to Twitter. "Tweet" can refer to a post as well or to the act of posting to Twitter. Tweets are public, indexed, and searchable unless protected by the user. Many users never Tweet, choosing only to follow persons or topics of interest.

Hashtags (#topic) are used to mark a keyword or topic in a Tweet. Posts with hashtag are categorized by topics in the Twitter search engine. Hashtagged words that become popular become Trending Topics (ex. #jan25, #egypt, #sxsw).
Mentions (@username) are used to tag a user in a Twitter update. When a public user mentions a private Twitter account, the link to the private account profile becomes public.

REAL: Readiness Essentials for Army Leaders

Meetings and Activities

STEPS FOR UTILIZING VIDEO TELECONFERENCING AT FRG MEETINGS

There are many facilities equipped with Video Teleconferencing (VTC) capabilities. This is a secure way for families to attend their unit's Family Readiness Group (FRG) meeting without having to travel long distances.

Setting Up a VTC

Before the FRG meeting date, FRG Leaders interested in setting up a VTC should contact their Family Readiness Support Assistant (FRSA) or Rear Detachment Staff. Once the locations are chosen, a reservation must be made through the a minimum of one week in advance, unless there is an emergency.

Attending a VTC

The FRG Leader should have the phone numbers for all o representatives for the locations being used that day. They should also have the VTC number in case of any technical issues. Once the VTC is scheduled to start, a camera in the room will turn on to start the call. Representatives can help with any questions about microphones and remotes.   FRGs are expected to follow the building rules regarding food and beverages and to clean up after themselves.

Cancelling a VTC

Occasionally, a VTC satellite location or entire meeting must be cancelled due to low atten- dance or weather. Please provide family members and representatives with a minimum notice of 24 hours of this cancelation due to weather or low attendance. If the minimum notice cannot be met and the VTC is still cancelled, please still call.

VTC Best Practice

Send out reminders/flyers and have family members RSVP a week in advance for the VTC to have an estimate head count of participants. Also, select a FRG team member or family member to be a host/hostess and greet family members as they arrive for the VTC.

TIPS FOR RUNNING AN EFFECTIVE MEETING

Before the meeting:

- Determine the purpose of the meeting. Are you planning an event? Putting together the newsletter? Providing training or hosting a speaker?
- What resources will you need? Childcare? Refreshments? Audio-visual equipment? Tables and chairs? What size room?
- Set the agenda and distribute it prior to the meeting so that everyone will know what to expect. Ask for input if possible before setting the agenda or set at least part of the next meeting's agenda as a closing activity at each meeting.
- Include a starting and ending time with the agenda.
- Prepare any visual aids you will need.

At the meeting

- Greet people as they arrive. If the group is small, you can do introductions as people come in. Otherwise, do introductions as the first part of the meeting. Consider nametags if you will have new people or have only met together a few times.
- Review the agenda and set any ground rules.
- Encourage discussion and participation. This may mean drawing people out who are not sharing, and tactfully bringing others to a close.
- Take minutes.
- Summarize what has been accomplished or resolved for each agenda item.
- Recognize success and achievement.

After the meeting:

- Send out the minutes.
- Follow up on action items.
- Start the agenda for the next meeting.
- Do all of the above in a timely manner.

Special tips for teleconference or virtual meetings:

- Always check equipment before every meeting.
- Send out the agenda early.
- Have participants log on five to ten minutes before starting the meeting.
- Avoid background noise.
- Have participants state their name before speaking.
- Don't multi-task.
- Describe or explain pauses for those who can't see.
- Sequence responses in a set order to avoid everyone talking at once.

The Emotional Cycle of Deployment

Anticipation of Departure
• Denial and anticipation of loss • Increased feeling of stress in home • Frequency of arguments increase • Reality of change ahead is "sinking in" • Focus is on completing family pre-deployment activity checklist • Members may feel more emotional • In case of multiple deployments ... new cycle may begin before family has had time to renegotiate new normal from last deployment • Children: decide when to tell them about the deployment	• Anger • Resentful • Guilt • Restlessness • Depression • Irritability • Sadness • Fear • Anxiety	• Communicate (ask questions, listen to each other) • Discuss deployment expectations • Communicate "quality time" availability to family • Discuss deployment with children • Sharing feelings • Planning and setting boundaries are the keys to managing the time leading up to the deployment
Detachment and Withdrawal
• Service Member is focused on preparing for mission and may distance self from family • Anger, arguments may occur as family prepares to protect themselves from "hurt" of separation • Communication may be difficult • Experience lack of energy • Increased difficulty making decisions • In preparation for loss, family may begin to act like Service Member is already gone • Multiple deployments can result in need to repeatedly create distance; to feel "numb" and avoid emotional connection • Children: actual good-bye is important	• Sadness • Despair • Hopelessness • Anger • Irritability • Withdrawal	• Dedicate time to spend with family members • Be empathetic • Include family, when possible, in pre-deployment activities • Reassure each other you will be ok • Develop and turn to support networks • Be patient that Service Member may be spending more time at work • Reassure children that the Service Member will return
Emotional Disorganization

• Life without Service Member may initially feel overwhelming
• Routines change, responsibilities added
• May feel ...
  • Numb and not interested in doing much
  • Have difficulty concentrating
  • Wish things would go back to "normal"
  • Surprised because things seem to be moving smoothly now that Service Member is gone
• Experience sleep difficulty
• Anxious about security issues
• Children: take cue from parent
	• Relief • Sadness
	• Lonely, frustrated
	• Restless
	• Confused
	• Disorganized • Indecisive • Irritable • Unmotivated • Overwhelmed
		• Establish your deployment routine
		• Get involved
		• Stay in contact with other family members
		• Establish a connection with Service Member
		• Stay in contact with support network
		• Set Goals
		• Start a hobby
		• Get a job
		• Volunteer

Recovery and Stabilization

• Family finally starts to settle into routine of life without Service Member
• Coping with changes can be positive
  • May enjoy new found responsibilities
  • Sense of independence, confidence
  • Relief that family is functioning well
• Coping with changes can be challenging
  • Difficult time accepting changes
  • Stressed, depressed, and having difficulty getting things done
  • Feel unsupported and worried how will make it through
• Most of the time there is a mixture of both responses.
• Children: clingy, sleep disturbances, eating difficulties; crankiness, drop in academics; acting out, self-criticism, loss of interest
	• Mildly depressed
	• Anxious • Vulnerable
	• Fear
	• Emotional
		• Maintain a routine
		• Work toward goals
		• Keep communication going
		• Use support network
		• Take care of yourself
		• Choose a positive attitude
		• Keep things in perspective
		• Be flexible
		• Model positive coping skills for children

The Emotional Cycle of Deployment

Anticipation of Return
• Homecoming is coming! • Family is happy, excited, and feeling boost of energy • Trying to make everything "perfect" for return • Sense of relief that Service Member will be home combined with worries about whether or not they will be the same • Children: when to tell them of return?	• Excitement • Apprehension • Nervousness • Restlessness • Irritability • Anxiousness	• Discuss plans for reunion • Set realistic expectations • Communicate expectations to family and friends • Remember Service Member must remain mission focused
Return Adjustment and Renegotiation
• During time of separation Service Member and all family members have changed • Changes may hold pleasant surprises or may cause conflict • Family members may feel overwhelmed by Service Member attempts to get to know everyone again • Everyone needs space and time to readjust • Family member may feel loss of independence • Entire family must begin to renegotiate how household will look now that everyone is together again • Service Member may need time to assimilate back • Children: different reactions depending on ages	• Relief • Happiness • Contentment • Irritability • Guarded • Resentment • Overwhelmed • Frustration	• Communicate • Be patient • Negotiate and compromise • Be willing to give up/take on different responsibilities • Keep emotions under control • Sit down and negotiate roles and responsibilities • Be aware of signs of combat stress
Reintegration and Stabilization
• Family continues to adjust to having Service Member home • This could last for months! • A "new normal" is established regarding routines and expectations • Members may begin to feel secure, relaxed, and comfortable with one another again • If readjustment challenges resurface, support is important ... It's okay to ask for help if you need it!	• Appreciation • Supportive • Comfortable	• Be patient • Communicate • Take it slow • Lower expectations • Taking time to get to know each other again • Re-negotiate if necessary

NOTES:

Family Deployment Checklist

Although extended deployments are never easy on the Family, the hardships need not be increased by failure to plan ahead. A carefully prepared and executed pre-deployment checklist can save you and your Family from giant headaches in the future. It is very important for you, as a Military Family, to have certain documents in your possession. Military Family Members are often required to take over the Family during the sponsor's absence; therefore, it is important that both of you sit down together to gather information and documents named in this checklist. You are encouraged to keep originals or copies of all listed documents in a special container (safety deposit box) in a location you can find immediately and is known to both you and the sponsor.

For trusts, the limitation is applied to the grantor, owner, or trustor. For estates, the limitation is applied to the decedent (decedent estate) or the debtor (bankruptcy estate). This limitation is applicable to all requests for EINs whether online or by phone, fax or mail. We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause.

MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD

SUBJECT: Audit of (UNIT NAME) FRG Informal Fund

1. An audit of the (UNIT NAME) FRG informal fund was conducted on 7 January 20XX.

2. The reason for this audit: UNIT NAME FRG Fund Custodian/Treasurer Daisy Dollar resigned from her position and CPT James Dollar is leaving command of the unit.

3. The last audit was conducted on 19 August 20XX when the new FRG Leader, Lisa Leader took over this FRG Leader position.

4. Findings:

- Bank statements for January-December 20XX are contained in the notebook.
- Receipts present in the notebook for all expenditures and amounts are consistent with the ledger entries.
- Copies of monthly reports submitted to the commander present for January - December 20XX.
- There is no reference of an Alternate Fund Custodian or Appointment Orders for an Alternate Fund Custodian.
- FRG Annual Budget line items not consistent with actual FRG expenditures.

5. Discrepancies: FRG Informal Fund Reports missing for the months of March, July, and November. No appointment orders for the Alternate Fund Custodian so it is unclear if they are not present or if there is no Alternate Fund Custodian. The FRG Informal Fund Annual Report for 20XX is not contained in the notebook. Checkbook not present in notebook at the time of audit so entries could not be reviewed.

6. Recommended improvements: If there is not an Alternate Fund Custodian, when recruiting for a new primary Fund Custodian also recruit an Alternate. If there is currently an Alternate, ensure a copy of current Appointment Orders are contained in the notebook. As there is no current Fund Custodian and it is unclear if there is an Alternate, the location of the checkbook is a concern as it was not with the notebook. The list of events and anticipated expenditures contained in the FRG Annual Budget is not consistent with actual expenditures.

Issues can be submitted at the garrison Army Community Service office or to a unit Family Programs liaison. Army OneSource (www.myarmyonesource.com) also facilitates AFAP issue online submission and routes the issue to the garrison/unit selected by the submitter for entry into the AFAP process. AFAP is the primary tool to communicate the important issues facing Soldiers, Army Cviliians, Families, Survivors and Retirees.

Each installation conducts issue-generating and developing events that allow the community to be a part of the AFAP process, ensuring the voice of the Army is heard. Individuals interested in learning more about their installation's process and how to get involved are encouraged to contact their local AFAP program manager.

Army Community Service Centers (ACS) are located on installations; requiring an individual to have an ID card in order to gain access to the center. Services offered through ACS are open to Active Duty, Reservists and National Guard members, DoD Civilians, Retirees, and Family members. Some ACS programs such as Army Emergency Relief, Exceptional Family Member Program, and Victim Advocacy require service members to be on Title X orders in order to receive full services.

SURVIVOR OUTREACH SERVICES (SOS)

Program Manager:

Phone Number:

The National Defense Authorization Act of 2006 (NDAA 2006) directed all the Military Services to develop a long-term support program for Survivors of the Fallen. Survivor Outreach Services (SOS) is the Army's official program for long-term Survivor Support and integrated into the Army's casualty continuum of care (the overall casualty framework which provides comprehensive support to Survivors). SOS works closely with the Casualty Assistance Center (CAC) and the Casualty Assistance Officer (CAO) during the initial phases of Survivor support. Introduced early in the casualty process, SOS coordinates services such as grief/bereavement counseling and financial assistance. Official transfer for long-term support occurs once all CAO duties and all required actions are complete.

SOS is a "One Army" Program made up of Regular Army, ARNG and USAR staff. The "One Army" concept means that Survivors receive support by the office closest to where they reside, regardless of Army component of the deceased, or component of the staff providing service. Services are also provided regardless of the manner of death (e.g., combat, training accident, vehicle accident, suicide, illness, etc) or location of death (e.g., during deployment, at garrison, mass casualty, hospital, etc). Lastly, access to services are for as long as the Survivor desires and NOT time limited.

SOS provides support to surviving Uniformed Soldiers, Family members of Soldiers who died on Active Duty, Army National Guard (ARNG) M-Day Soldiers, United States Army Reserve (USAR) Troop Program Unit members or those designated as Prisoner of War/ Missing in Action (POW/MIA). Survivors are not only primary and secondary next-of-kin, but may include other Family members and even unrelated loved ones such as fiancés and battle buddies.

The SOS program offers services that seek to build Survivor independence and resilience using a holistic, multi-agency and multi-component approach. Support Coordinators serve as the long-term support advocate for Survivors and is responsible for service delivery. They facilitate support groups, provide life skills education, assist Survivors in managing applicable life-long benefit transition milestones, connects Survivors with counseling resources, and has working relationships with local Non-Governmental Agencies to assist with other Survivor needs. Financial Counselors help Survivors by assisting with long-term financial goals, budget counseling, debt management, estate planning education, tax issues and higher education needs.

SOS is a ready resource to military units and leadership in casualty support operations. SOS and CAC staffs should be considered as a training partner in mass casualty exercises, and a go-to resource when real life events occur.

More information is available through your local SOS office. Regular Army SOS staff are a part of the Army Community Service (ACS)/Army Support Activity (ASA) Center and located in the ACS/ASA building or in a separate facility on post. ARNG and USAR staff, who may be your Survivor's closest support, are located in Armories, State Joint Forces Headquarters and Family Centers. More information on Survivor resources (including your closest Survivor Outreach Services office) is available online at www.sos.army.mil or by calling the SOS toll free # (1-855-707-2769).

It is important to recognize and understand symbols the Army has adopted to honor and recognize Survivors of Fallen Soldiers. This includes the:

Gold Star Service Banner is displayed in memory of those who paid the ultimate sacrifice. During World War I, service flags were displayed in homes, businesses, schools and churches with a Blue Star for each Family member serving in the United States Armed Forces. A gold star was stitched over the blue one to represent when that Service member died during service to our nation.

Gold Star Lapel Button presented to immediate Family members of Service Members who die while deployed during any armed hostilities in which the United States is engaged (or die from wounds sustained in theater), dating back to World War I. This includes Service Members who die while deployed in support of military operations against the enemy or during an international terrorist attack.

Lapel Button for Next of Kin of Deceased Personnel (also referred to as Next of Kin Lapel Button) presented to immediate Family members of Service Members who die while serving honorably outside of a combat theater of operations (such as illness, suicide, training accident, vehicle accident, etc). This includes Service Members who die while assigned to a Reserve or National Guard unit in a drill status. It is authorized for issue retroactive to March 29, 1973.

The Gold Star Lapel and Next of Kin Lapel Buttons are normally presented to eligible family members prior to the military funeral service. Although they are less than an inch in size, they are packed with great meaning and emotion. They are not awards. They are symbols of honor. When you see someone wearing either the Gold Star or Next of Kin Lapel Button, know that he or she has lost a loved one who selflessly served our nation.

Members of the military enroll on a voluntary basis. Each service member designates an individual to receive support during deployment as their Primary Care Receiver. This person can be any adult family member or 'significant other'. A volunteer from the local community who has been trained in care-giving and the deployment cycle is assigned to that individual. Assignments are gender matched. This Hometown Support Volunteer (HSV) stays in regular contact with the designated family member coordinating local support efforts. The HSV has direct access to affiliated organizations which can provide employment and emergency financial support. The HSV has also been trained to recognize behaviors that might indicate the need for professional mental health care. What is an FRG?

Family Readiness Groups (FRGs) are an established official Army entity to provide information, activities and support that enhance the resiliency of unit Soldiers, Civilians, and their Family members. FRGs provide resources and practical tools that facilitate self-reliance during military deployments, separations and transitions. Support from the FRGs may directly impact the well-being and esprit de corps within the unit.

Why should I be a part of the FRG?

One of the main missions of the FRG is to disseminate information on behalf of the commander. Active participation in the FRG ensures that you are getting the most current and accurate information from authorized sources. The FRG is also a great place to network and develop community connections.

I am interested in volunteering with the FRG

Volunteers are the foundation of all FRGs. Command teams often rely on FRG volunteers to help execute their Family Readiness plan. There are many different volunteer opportunities within the FRG. Some require greater time commitment than others. Volunteering in the FRG provides an opportunity to get connected, help others in the unit, and develop a sense of pride and accomplishment. Contact the unit FRG leader, Family Readiness Liaison or commander for information on how you can be a part of the FRG volunteer Family.

RESOURCES

Frequently Asked Questions

Family Readiness Group (FRG)
Frequently Asked Questions

What is the FRG relationship to the Rear Detachment Commander (RDC)?

A. The RDC is the FRG's link to the deployed unit. All resource support for FRGs, such as meeting rooms, non-tactical vehicle use, office equipment and computers, newsletters, telephones, volunteer costs, and child care costs would be authorized through the RDC.

I have assumed command of a battalion that has not had an active FRG. Would you recommend I establish one FRG for the Battalion or one for each Company?

A. We recommend FRGs be established at the company level and that a FRG steering committee be established at the battalion level as a forum to discuss FRG guidance and direction and serve as an information conduit. While company level FRGs serve as the model, commanders may decide that a battalion level FRG may be more effective due to the unit's mission or demographics.

Our FRG structure includes an assistant FRG leader, treasurer, secretary, welcome committee chair. Does the Commander's Guide require us to re- organize?

A. No. Your FRG structure is consistent with the Guide.

How much money should the FRG receive?

A. FRG needs vary widely. Location, deployment, climate, composition of the FRG members, mission, the military member's component (Active, Guard, Reserve) will influence FRG budget needs.

Who manages the FRG official funds?

A. The brigade, or equivalent, commander is ultimately responsible for the proper use and expenditure of mission funds. During deployments, the Rear Detachment Commander is the Commander's representative at the home station and has responsibility for mission funds. The FRG is the responsibility of the RDC during deployments; therefore, funding support during deployments would be authorized by the RDC. FRG mission activities are mission funded with appropriated funds (APFs), just like all other unit administrative requirements. This includes the provision of office supplies, computer equipment, newsletter publication and mailings, volunteer travel and training, and other resources support for FRG mission activities. FRG leaders should familiarize themselves with the commander's SOPs for requesting resources support.

Can FRG volunteers travel to geographically separated units?

A. Yes. Commanders, may, at their discretion, authorize APFs to pay for travel and training of official statutory volunteers, who must in-process through the local ACS center or Family Programs Office. Authorized FRG volunteer travel can include FRG volunteer visits to geographically disbursed members of the FRG when unit Commander approved and directly in support of the FRG mission. Statutory volunteers may also be authorized to use a non-tactical vehicle for official travel.

An FRG leader establishes a registered non-profit private organization. The FRG leader requests permission to continue serving as the FRG leader in a statutory volunteer capacity. What should the unit Commander do?

A. The unit Commander should coordinate a response with the servicing ethics counselor for the Garrison. The Commander must request the FRG leader choose either to manage the non-profit PO, or serve as a volunteer FRG leader. Serving in both capacities could lead to a conflict of interest. Should the FRG leader decide to continue managing the non-profit private organization, he or she can still participate as an FRG member and volunteer in a non-leadership role, but not as the FRG leader. The Garrison Commander should seek ethics counselor guidance regarding the limits of providing support to private organizations, particularly those that seek permission to fundraise, and should ensure volunteers under his or her command are aware of government ethics rules regarding the proper use of government resources. See AR 210-22, JER, and AR 600-29. Government officials cannot provide one non-profit organization with support beyond that which they normally provide similar types of non-profits.

Our FRG includes Family of Soldiers who are not ID card holders. Is this OK? Do FRG members have to be ID cardholders?

A. The unit's Soldiers, civilian employees, and Family members, both immediate and extended (parents, siblings, fiancée, and other loved ones; Family as defined by the Soldier) may belong to the FRG. There is no requirement that FRG members be ID cardholders. Soldiers bear primary responsibility for their Family and personal affairs readiness. As a minimum, they should keep themselves and their Families informed concerning key unit personnel information, benefits, programs and ensure that information regarding the Total Army Family Program is provided to Family members. Adding Family members to the FRG newsletter distribution list and vFRG can support the Soldier's and Family's readiness. Belonging to the FRG doesn't automatically mean installation access. Installation access requirements must still be met.

Can the Commander's spouse be the informal funds custodian?

A. Yes, as long as the spouse is not the FRG Leader.

Can the FRG co-leader be the informal funds custodian?

A. No, the volunteer must choose to be either the co-leader for informal funds custodian. Holding both volunteer positions is a conflict of interest and in violation of AR 608-1, Appendix J.

What is the FRG leader's role in Care Team?

A. The FRG leader's role should be very limited. The FRG's role should be directed by the command and FRG leader's should not do anything until contacted by command. FRG's can be a conduit of information and updates to the FRG membership as authorized by command.

FRSAs

What are the Family Readiness Support Assistant's (FRSA) responsibilities?

A. FRSAs perform a variety of clerical and administrative duties in support of the commander and FRG leaders. Their primary duties include preparing and distributing correspondence, newsletters, flyers, rosters, reports and requests; providing content for the vFRG or AKO website; serving as vFRG system administrator if assigned; maintaining regular contact with FRG leaders and Army Community Service/Family Programs; scheduling and coordinating FRG meeting and event logistics; and recruiting and maintaining an active volunteer force within the unit. Moving these administrative tasks to FRSAs, allows volunteer FRG Leaders more time to work directly with Families.

My FRSA wants to be a volunteer FRG leader in the unit to which her spouse is assigned. Is this allowed?

A. No. Federal employees may not volunteer for a program area in which they are employed. If they wish to volunteer it must be in a different program area such as chapel or hospital, any program area other than FRG

FRG FUNDING

How is the FRG funded?

A. The FRG APF SOP should include a requirement that FRG leaders fill out purchase request forms and submit them to the Commander for approval. Commanders can use their government purchase card to purchase supplies, equipment, room rental, or any other approved item to support FRG mission activities. By using the government purchase card, the unit purchases the items, pays the bills and maintains a detailed record of APF support to FRGs.

Will funding come from each brigade, or from a garrison account?

A. The funds come from the unit commander's appropriated funds (APF). The unit commander should project budget needs, request funds, and discuss funding guidance with the chain of command. Budgeting for mission activities is not new for a commander.

How can Appropriated Fund provide support to the FRG?

A. Commanders, with FRG leader input, should develop a budget plan. The commander should review the appropriated fund support provided to the FRG the previous fiscal year (1 October – 30 September) and then develop a plan for the upcoming year. The commander and FRG leader should review and modify the plan, if necessary, to fit within the unit's available mission funds. After the annual budget projections are received, the Commander should develop a Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) for the FRG which describes what type of APF support is available, the budget allocation, and the procedures for requesting support.

MY FRG leader would like to hold an FRG meeting and luncheon. The meeting agenda includes discussing upcoming training exercises, introducing new members, reviewing ACS classes for FRG members, and planning for a unit car wash. What actions are authorized, and what funds can be used?

A. APFs may be used to support the meeting, provide equipment, and print newsletters and materials necessary towards carrying out the meeting activities. All refreshment or luncheon costs may be paid using the FRG's informal fund or the Supplemental mission account intended for FRGs, if money is available. APF monies cannot generally be used for food or refreshments. Regarding the unit car wash, FRGs may only conduct internal fundraising for their FRG informal fund. They must request permission to fundraise as described above. Commanders should not approve internal fundraising unless consistent with the FRG's informal fund SOP. If it is approved, the proceeds are kept in the FRG's informal "cup and flower" fund, IAW AR 600-20.

Our FRG has many social activities. Why not include "socializing" with the FRG mission activity, so that we can use the commander's government credit card to pay for FRG parties and outings?

A. FRG's are established as official Army entities to provide activities and support that enhance the flow of information, increase the resiliency of unit Soldiers and their Families, provide practical tools for adjusting to military deployments and separations, and enhance the well-being and esprit de corps within the unit. FRG mission activities which are funded with APFs, must abide by all laws and regulations governing the use of those monies. APFs shall not be used for social activities.

Our unit commander would like to send the FRG leader, who is a statutory volunteer, to Family readiness training. What funds are authorized?

A. The unit commander uses APFs to pay for this expenditure. Statutory volunteers may be sent on Invitational Travel Orders to training, as provided in AR 608-1, 10 U.S.C. §1588, and the Joint Travel Regulation, Appendix E, Part I, paragraph A, and the Secretary Army Travel Policy. If the FRG leader is the unit Commander's Family member, the unit Commander must send the request to authorize travel to the next higher level officer in the Commander's chain of command, to avoid potential violation of the JER, conflict of interest provisions.

My commander said that the unit has arranged with the Child Development Center to provide childcare for the unit's statutory volunteers. Since the unit will pay the bill monthly using the APF Government Purchase Card, he won't reimburse our childcare if we use a different provider. Can he do that?

A. Yes he can. In fact, this is the most efficient way for a unit to manage childcare for statutory volunteers if they are located on a garrison. The CDC provides a bill monthly to the unit for all of the childcare charged that month to the unit and the APF credit card holder pays the bill. As a management control mechanism, the commander should also implement a childcare coupon for the volunteer to give to CDC after it has been signed by the designated unit representative. The coupons can then be matched to the charges on the bill. Commanders of units not located on the installation or with geographically dispersed Families will need to provide FRG volunteers with childcare policies and procedures.

My unit was denied a global phone for morale or operational purposes by the commander due to limited funding. Can the FRG raise funds to purchase and provide maintenance/use costs for a commercially purchased global phone?

A. No. APFs are authorized for the purchase and maintenance/use costs of a global phone. FRGs cannot use their private or informal funds for something that is authorized to be purchased with APFs.

My unit was denied use of a VTC. A commercial company has agreed to conduct a VTC for us. Can the FRG raise funds to pay for the VTC?

A. No. For the same reason the FRG cannot fund the global phone – it is an appropriated fund expense.

REIMBURSEMENT

Under what specific conditions is reimbursement granted for volunteers?

A. AR 608-1, para 5-10g covers the reimbursement criteria for volunteers. This is provided the commander has approved the expenditure and funds are available. It is recommended the unit commander have an SOP which informs the volunteers what funds are available, and how to request reimbursement.

How will the reimbursement of volunteer incidental expenses for child care costs be made, and to whom -- the volunteer or the provider?

A. We assume you are requesting information regarding the reimbursement of incidental expenses for statutory volunteers registered through ACS, IAW 10 U.S.C. 1588 and AR 608-1, chapter 5. The unit commander must approve the expense in advance and should provide an SOP on the reimbursement procedures. The reimbursement depends upon the commander's approval and availability of funds. The money comes from the unit commander's appropriated mission funds.

What forms will govern the monies used for reimbursement?

A. Check with the commander's SOP for FRG budget procedures.

Is the FRG volunteer required to register with the CDC prior to requesting reimbursement of child care?

A. If the volunteer is using the CDC, registration is a requirement. The volunteer must be a statutory volunteer. If the volunteer wants to be reimbursed for childcare costs, he/she should check with the commander on whether or not childcare expenses are being reimbursed. The volunteer should review the Commander's SOP on the reimbursement of incidental expenses, including childcare. Note that the volunteer does not have to use the Childcare Center, unless the commander has decided that the Childcare Center must be used for reimbursement.

May the unit commander reimburse an FRG volunteer's child care expenses incurred while conducting FRG business?

A. Yes, statutory volunteers may be reimbursed for incidental expenses, to include child care costs. The Commander may reimburse child care expenses incurred while the volunteer was conducting FRG business, consistent with AR 608-1 and 10 U.S.C 1588. However, FRG social events are not considered official FRG business so the Commander may not pay FRG volunteer childcare costs incurred while participating in a social event.

What is the definition of volunteering (in order to qualify for the reimbursement of incidental expenses) - FRG leadership roles or does attending the FRG meeting constitute time as a volunteer?

A. FRG members attending an FRG meeting are not volunteers. Statutory volunteers provide voluntary services to the unit commander in furtherance of the FRG mission. The definition of statutory volunteer can be found at AR 608-1, para 5-4c; Statutory volunteers are required to have a job description, and to be supervised like an employee (AR 608-1, para 5-9k). The FRG leader, Treasurer, Newsletter Editor, and others who hold designated leadership positions should all be statutory volunteers. They should in-process through the Mobilization and Deployment Program Manager and Army Volunteer Corps Coordinator and receive a signed job description from the command. The unit commander should prepare a SOP covering the procedures for reimbursement for incidental expenses, so that volunteers know what is and is not covered.

DONATIONS
Can my FRG accept a donation and deposit it into our informal funds checking account?

A. Yes. Check with local and command policy. The Commander should request legal review of the gift offer prior to acceptance.

Unit Commander stationed at Garrison "X" receives an offer from a local business, to make a $20,000 donation to support "local Army Families". May the Unit Commander accept the donation?

A. The unit Commander should inform the Garrison "X" Commander of the donation offer. The Garrison Commander may accept this donation meant for Family support, into the Garrison FRG supplemental mission activity, as provided by AR 608-1. The donations become nonappropriated funds (NAFs), and are accounted for using department code/sub-account, SA J9, so that FRG intended gifts/donations are accounted for separately from other supplemental mission uses. The Garrison Commander should request the garrison Judge Advocate's office review the gift offer prior to acceptance.

Are the rules for the use of Morale, Welfare and Recreation (MWR) NAFs the same as for supplemental mission NAFs?

A. No. Supplemental mission NAFs are used for a different program and purpose than MWR NAFs. Therefore, the rules for the disbursement and use of SM NAFs are different for MWR NAFs.

I was told that FRG Supplemental Mission Activity donations must be shared equally with all FRGs on the garrison. Has that changed?

A. Yes. Garrison Commanders will coordinate distribution of donations to FRGs based upon need and donor intent. The donation does not have to be divided among all FRGs. For example, the garrison commander can choose, with the RDCs input, to divide the donation among FRGs with deployed Soldiers only or only to units that are planning reunion activities for redeploying Soldiers.

What use is authorized for FRG Supplemental Mission Activity use?

A. FRG Supplemental Mission Activity donations intended for Family support or FRG use are not Morale, Welfare and Recreation (MWR) NAFs. These supplemental mission NAFs are managed separately under a different account code, and the rules regarding their expenditure are different than the rules for the expenditure of MWR NAFs. ACS supplemental mission NAFs intended for FRG or Family support may only be used to supplement the FRG mission activity. Commanders may use ACS supplemental mission donations intended for FRG use, for any purpose that the commander determines clearly supplements an established mission of the FRG. The use must be consistent with AR 215-1, and DoDI 1015.15. The first priority in using these supplemental mission NAFs should be to encourage maximum attendance and participation at FRG meetings, such as by providing food and refreshments. Using supplemental mission donations to support a unit ball is an example of an unauthorized expenditure because it fails to supplement an established mission of the FRG. Commanders may not authorize the use of supplemental mission funds for any purpose that cannot withstand the test of public scrutiny or which could be deemed a misuse or waste of funds. Using supplemental mission donations to fund a lavish cruise to promote "cohesion" among FRG members is an example of an excessive and inappropriate use of supplemental mission NAFs.

Do supplemental mission donations given to an FRG count as income to the FRG Informal Fund?

A. No, these are two entirely separate pots of monies. Supplemental mission donations belong to the Army's NAF Instrumentality. Informal "cup and flower" funds belong to the informal fund's members. Supplemental mission donations have no impact on the FRG informal fund income cap.

Several FRGs which receive support from the Garrison "X" ACS, have heard about a donation to the ACS supplemental mission account. The FRGs request permission to use the supplemental mission NAFs to provide transportation and tickets to a festival or amusement park. May they do so?

A. Possibly. Supplemental mission NAFs may be used for FRG social activities. To receive some of the donated funds, unit commanders must submit an approved purchase request which includes a brief description of the item(s) requested, total funds required, dates the items are needed, and vendor or source of the items to be purchased to the DFMWR for processing.

My mother wants to donate $100 to our FRG Informal Fund. Can we accept it?

A. Yes, as long as the FRG has not exceeded the $10,000 annual income cap and local policy authorizes it. The FRG can accept donations of $1000 or less for its informal fund; however these donations count as income to the FRG.

A local car dealer wants to donate $2000 worth of products to the FRG to put into care packets that will be sent to the unit's deployed Soldiers. Can the FRG accept the donation?

A. No. The unit can only accept money or tangible goods valued at $1000 or less. Donations valued at more than $1000 must be given to the Garrison Commander (after the donation has been approved by the Legal Ethics Counselor. However, the donation does not have to be shared with all FRGs - the Garrison Commander may decide what units receive the donated goods.

FUNDRAISERS

Should FRG fund-raising caps be based on number of people in the unit the FRG is supporting vice a standard amount based on echelon of the FRG

A. AR 608-1 Appendix J states that the FRG fund-raising cap is $10,000 per calendar year from all sources, including fundraising, gifts, and donations. Unit commanders may establish a lower annual income cap. State and local laws and the requirements of Status of Forces Agreements may also make a lower FRG informal fund cap necessary at some locations.

I was told our FRG could only hold fundraisers at our own motor pool? Is this correct?

A. Not necessarily. The JER authorizes official fundraising by organizations composed primarily of Department of Defense or Department of the Army employees and their dependents when fundraising among their own members or dependents for the benefit of their own welfare funds. The Army Office of General Counsel (Ethics and Fiscal Law) and the Army Standards of Conduct Office have interpreted this to mean that an Army organization -including but not limited to units, installations, and Family Readiness Groups - may officially fundraise from its own community members or dependents and from all persons benefiting from the Army organization. For example, an installation may benefit from the Brigade or Unit FRG, thus permitting a Brigade or Unit FRG to fundraise throughout the installation. Fundraising must be (1) for the FRG informal fund, as opposed to a private charity; and (2) approved by the unit commander and coordinated with the commander with cognizance over the location of fundraising, if different from the organization area. Commanders shall consult with their SJA or Ethics Counselor and avoid all conflicts with other authorized fundraising activities.

I am the FRG Leader for an Army Reserve unit. Our Reserve unit trains at a public building not located on an Army installation. Can we hold a fundraiser in front of the building?

A. No. Since the unit is located in a public building that is shared with non-Army businesses, the FRG may only fundraise among its own members in its own spaces.

I am an FRG leader…. In the past we held many big fundraisers which these new guidelines limit in scope. Frankly, these events built esprit de corps. We are struggling to re-define the purpose of FRG activities. Suggestions?

A. Certain FRG mission activities are essential and include FRG member meetings, FRG staff and committee meetings, welcome activities for new members, and the publication and distribution of FRG newsletters. FRGs should provide activities that enhance the flow of information from command to the Family, and serve as a referral resource. FRGs should consider holding classes and workshops relevant to their membership. FRG leaders and commanders should speak with their members to better identify training needs and contact ACS or one of the many other garrison agencies available for FRG support. FRGs can create resilient Families that stick together in both celebration and crisis.

My FRG is unhappy with the prohibition against external fund raising and wants me to set up a private organization to do our FRG fundraising? As a commander, may I do this?

A. No. Commanders cannot organize private organizations (POs) or direct their activities, including how POs spend their money. Private organizations (POs) may be established by individuals, including FRG members if they so desire, to support shared goals and objectives. However, as stated in the G1 ALARACT message, "These POs may not receive preferential treatment and must be treated the same as all other similarly situated POs IAW the Joint Ethics Regulation (JER), and AR 210-22, Private Organizations on Department of the Army Installations. To prevent potential conflicts of interest, if such POs are established, its leaders must consist of different persons than the FRGs' leaders." FRG members and commanders should remember not to use government or FRG resources or government equipment for PO business.

You might also take into consideration that donations to the FRG Informal Fund cannot exceed $1000 and that the donation counts as FRG income for the annual income cap. The FRG would benefit more from a local private organization donating to the Supplemental Mission Account intended for FRGs. The donations do not count as income to the FRG.

My division is planning a Division Ball. Can my FRG conduct fundraising activities to support the Division Ball?

A. No. Planning and contributing funds to support a Division Ball is not an FRG responsibility. The Division Ball is also not an MWR event for which non-appropriated funds or commercial sponsorship would be authorized. Division Balls are a private social event which should be funded by the attendees, or their private organizations (established IAW AR 210-22, Private Organizations) should their members choose to do so.

My Battalion is planning a Holiday Party. Can the FRG conduct fundraising to support the Battalion Holiday Party?

A. Yes. FRGs can conduct internal fundraising following their commander's approval after consultation with their ethics counselor, IAW AR 600-29 and the JER, to support this Family event.

May the FRGs which fall under my Brigade hold a fundraiser to benefit our FRGs' informal funds?

A. Yes. It is possible that a Brigade could hold an internal fundraiser for its own members, to benefit its own members, consistent with AR 600-20 and the JER. It is essential that no fundraiser be held without the permission of the commander, in consultation with the Brigade's Judge Advocate ethics counselor.

If my Brigade FRG is selling unit magnets as a fundraiser, and a non-member of the Brigade wishes to purchase a magnet, could we sell it to the non- member without violating the "internal" fundraising limitations?

A. Yes. FRGs who are given permission by their command, in consultation with their Judge Advocate's ethics counselor, to have an internal fundraiser should make every effort to abide by their commander's rules regarding that fundraiser.

May my FRG do a fundraiser in their own community as long as it doesn't infringe on another unit?

A. We can't tell from your question which community you are referring to. If you mean off-post, in the civilian community, then the answer is no. Official Army activities, to include FRGs, are prohibited from engaging in external fundraising. However, your FRG may be able to do a fundraiser at a central location on the installation. Your unit commander should consult with the servicing Judge Advocate's ethics counselor regarding this specific fundraising question.

May the FRG use Square or Pay Pal as a form of payment during fundraisers?

A. Maybe, be sure to check your local policy.

INFORMAL FUNDS

Informal funds "may be used for purely social activities", etc....Does that include helping to defray the cost for a unit formal?

A. Informal funds are private monies which belong to the informal funds' members. Planning and contributing funds to support a unit formal is not an FRG responsibility. Therefore, our guidance is not to use FRG informal funds monies for unit events. Unit formals are also not an MWR event for which non-appropriated funds are available, nor would commercial sponsorship be authorized. Formal balls are a private social event which should be funded by the attendees, or their private organizations should their members choose to do so.

Is the $10,000 cap for informal funds enforceable retroactively?

A. FRGs informal funds may not exceed an annual gross income cap of $10,000 per calendar year. If your FRG informal funds exceed $10,000, the FRG needs to not engage in any internal fundraising.

If the FRG Informal Fund account has reached the limit of $10,000, are they unable to make any additional deposits from fundraisers currently scheduled?

A. Commanders should not authorize FRG fundraisers when the FRG informal funds account has reached the $10,000 cap. We advise commanders to cancel fundraisers for FRGs who are already at their maximum limit. FRGs are not established as a fundraising organization.

Our battalion is having a holiday ball, in which the battalion pays for reserving the location, DJ, etc and the soldiers buy tickets for their dinner. Normally the FRG helps the battalion with this event by decorating (and purchasing the decorations for) the tables for the ball. Can we use our informal funds to purchase the decorations?

A. The Battalion should use their informal funds to purchase the decorations for their holiday ball. The Battalion holiday ball is not an FRG responsibility. FRG members' informal funds should only be used for the benefit of the FRG members, not the entire Battalion.

My commander wants the FRG informal fund to be bonded. This is expensive; does the Army have a program that covers this?

A. No, First, bonding the informal fund is not a requirement but it is the commander's option. The Army does not provide bonding for FRG informal funds. We recommend the commander consider the value of the FRG informal fund and the cost of bonding when making this decision.

My FRG would like to give going away gifts to our deploying Soldiers, such as books, magazines, calling cards and gift certificates. We also want to send "care packets" to the Soldiers during the deployment. Should we use the FRG's informal funds for the gifts and care packets, or the unit's informal funds?

A. You have an option – the FRG Informal Funds or the unit's Informal Funds. The FRG Informal Funds may be used if the membership agrees and Soldier care packages are included in the Informal Fund SOP. Since this activity only benefits the unit members and not the FRG Family members, the FRG may consider asking the commander if unit Informal Funds may be used.

My Unit Commander wants to organize an FRG picnic, provide transportation, buy welcoming gifts to new FRG members, and pay for pony rides. What APF support is authorized?

A. None. APFs may not be used for this purely social activity. If the FRG has informal funds, they may be used. Also, the FRG may request funds from the FRG Supplemental Mission Activity, if available. The use of government vehicles to support the picnic is also not authorized, since the FRG activity is purely social.

Our FRG has $15,000 in its informal fund checking account. What do we do?

A. Follow the guidance in AR 608-1, Appendix J to insure your informal fund procedures and paper work are in order. FRG informal funds are capped at $10,000.

How can our FRG establish an informal "cup and flower" fund for births, birthdays, meals and parties?

A. Commanders may authorize FRGs to maintain informal funds for social events, similar to a cup and flower fund. The commander, or delegated representative, should sign a letter designating an FRG informal fund custodian and alternate, responsible for informal fund custody, accounting, and documentation. Operation of the fund will be consistent with Army Values, DoD 5500.7-R, Joint Ethics Regulation (JER) and AR 600-20, Command Policy. The brigade commander, or delegated representative, must publish an organizing SOP for informal funds management procedures.

My FRG has a bank account for its informal funds. Do we need to close the account and await funding from the chain of command?

A. No. Commanders may authorize FRGs to keep informal funds for activities which cannot be funded with government money. The informal funds are private monies belonging to the individual FRG members. FRG mission activities are funded by commanders using government money. The commander's mission funds (APFs) must be spent when supporting the official FRG mission, in accordance with fiscal and ethics law principles.

One of my Soldiers is taking R&R leave at Edelweiss in Germany. Her spouse lives in Texas. This Soldier has not seen her Family for 3 years. Can the FRG pay for the spouse's ticket, or a portion of the ticket, with their informal funds?

A. No. FRG Informal funds must be used for activities that support all of the members of the FRG. However, there are other agencies that may be able to assist the spouse, such as Army Emergency Relief and local charitable and volunteer organizations.

Can the FRG's informal funds be used to buy food and drink for the FRG meetings?

A. Yes. The FRG's informal funds could be used to purchase refreshments for FRG meetings, as long as some of the funds had been earmarked for refreshments. Informal funds use is limited to expenses consistent with the purpose and function of the fund. Other examples of authorized uses of informal funds include social events such as FRG parties or outings. Any disbursements of the informal funds that are made should be for specific planned purposes and should be for the benefit of the FRG members as a whole.

Our FRG is having a holiday party. We are using our informal funds. Can we also use NAFs?

A. No. You are correct to use FRG informal funds, assuming doing so is consistent with the FRG's informal fund SOP. However, since the FRG is not an MWR activity or NAFI, NAFs cannot be used to support this FRG event.

Is an audit required when there is a change in funds custodian?

A. Maybe, there is no regulatory requirement for an audit, but may be a local policy. This is a best practice.

CHILDCARE

I have a unit requesting child care for Bible study that will be part of an FRG meeting. Is that an appropriate use of funds?

A. We cannot support Bible study as an appropriate FRG activity.

MILITARY TIME

The military operates off a 24-hour clock, beginning at midnight (which is 0000 hours). See below for the complete time conversion chart.

For most daily things, military personnel use local time as a reference. In other words, "report to duty at 0700," would mean you have to be at work at 7:00 AM, local time.

When it comes to operational matters (such as communications, training exercises, deployments, ship movements aircraft flights, etc.), the military must often coordinate with bases and personnel located in other time zones.

PHONETIC ALPHABET

A phonetic alphabet is a list of words used to identify letters in a message transmitted by radio or telephone. Spoken words from an approved list are substituted for letters. For example, the word "Army" would be "Alfa Romeo Mike Yankee" when spelled in the phonetic alphabet. This practice helps to prevent confusion between similar sounding letters, such as "m" and "n", and to clarify communications that may be garbled during transmission.
